ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset I thank the Almighty and my family for blessing me to do this study.

It with great pleasure that I express my hearty gratitude to Dr K. S. Chandrasekar, Professor and HOD, Institute of Management in Kerala, University of Kerala, Trivandrum and Dean, Faculty of Management Sciences, University of Kerala for guiding me and supervising the research at every stage. He has been a great source of inspiration and encouragement before and throughout the period of my research.

I take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to Dr K.P.V. Ramanakumar, Professor, HOD, Dean (R&D), Department of Management Studies, Sri Chandrashekarendra Saraswathi Vishwa Maha Vidyalaya, Enathur, Kanchipuram for his support during the entire period of the study. Thanks are also due to the other members of his department who were consistently helpful.

Thanks are due to the management of the Asian School of Business, Trivandrum, for facilitating an environment conducive to the spirit of inquiry and research.

My sincere thanks to my colleagues at the Asian School of Business who were always encouraging and uniformly helpful with criticism and insight.
Many senior industry executives both in the organisations studied and elsewhere have helped in terms of access to primary and secondary data, and who were willing to share sensitive information. This study would not have been possible without their active help and cooperation.

Many industry bodies such as FICCI, NASSCOM, MAIT & CII have very helpful in terms of pointing to sources of data and facilitating meetings and appointments. My very special thanks to all of them.

And finally, I convey my gratitude to the members of my family; who not only put up with my frequent absences and dereliction of family duties, but were also encouraging throughout.
