AKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am deeply indebted to my supervisor, Dr. Nazer Singh, Professor of History in Department of Distance Education, Punjabi University, Patiala, for his seasoned and generous guidance as well as keen interest in my work. He has been a providential influence and presence, like that of a father and true guide in my life. He watched my progress over the years and very kindly spared time for discussing my problems related to the present topic for months together and also going through all my drafts with his habitual thoroughness. He also graciously allowed me the use of his personal library. I undertook and finally completed my work with the patience revived time to time by his inspiring and sympathetic attitude. Without his intellectual assistance, sustained attention, pains for taking interest, constant encouragement and intelligent criticism, this work would never have become what it is today.

My sincere thanks are also due to all the faculty members in the department of History. I will remain beholden to Dr. Kulbir Singh Dhillon, Professor and Head, Department of History, and Dean Students Welfare, Punjabi University, Patiala, Dr. Sukhninder Kaur Dhillon, Professor, Dr. Jaspal Kaur, Professor and Muhammad Idrish, Senior Lecturer, Department of History for their usual courtesy and ungrudging help that they have extended to me from time to time guidance, inspiration and cooperation during the course of my research.

I am also grateful to Dr. Balwinder Singh Tiwana, Professor, Department of Economic, and Provost, Punjabi University Patiala, and Kulwinder Singh Bajwa, Professor, Department of Historical Studies, as it was entirely due to their encouragement that I finally undertook this study. They also guided me with patience and kindness, giving me freedom to pursue my own ideas. That in spite of the constant and valuable criticism and suggestions given by my advisor many errors still have crept in its entirety due to my own imperfection and intellectual limitations. I am also thankful to Indian Council of Historical Research (I.C.H.R.) for its valuable financial support in completing my work.

We are fully aware, librarians provide the crucial link between a researcher and his source material, so I am also thankful to staff of National Archives of India, Jan Path, New Delhi; Nehru Memorial Museum & Library, New Delhi; Punjab State Archives, Chandigarh, Bhai Kahan Singh Nabha Library, Punjabi University, Patiala; Dr. Ganda Singh Punjabi Reference Library, Punjabi University, Patiala; Punjab Historical Studies Library, Punjabi University, Patiala; Punjab State Archives, Patiala; Central Public Library, Patiala; Desh Bhagat Yadgar Library, Jallandhar; Punjab State Archives, Patiala; Panjab University Library, Chandigarh, Guru Nanak Dev University Library, Amritsar; Sikh Reference Library, Amritsar; Khalsa College Library, Amritsar, who had been very kind and helpful during the entire period of my research work.

My sincere and earnest thanks are due to my loving parents, specially my father, mother, elder brother and sister who always encouraged and inspired as well as financially assisted me whenever I was in need of some money without which the present work would not have been completed. I shall remain always indebted and beholden to them for their love, the encouragement and assistance they gave me at every step during the time of my research.

My reverence thanks to all my friends especially Jagpal Singh Maan, Palwinder Gill and Jatinder Singh for their moral support, unfailing help and cooperation. They were special sources of inspiration during the time of my research.

I must thank S. Paranjeet Singh, office incharge of Department of History, Punjabi University, Patiala, for his valuable support and cooperation in completing all the administrative formalities fulfill in connection with the procedure since the day I submitted my request for enrolment and registration of my Ph.D. till the last day of its submission. I am also thankful to Sohan Singh Thakur, Library Restorer, Bhai Kahan Singh Nabha Library and Mehar Kaur, Librarian of Historical Studies Department, Punjabi University, Patiala, for their kind help.

I would like to articulate my ineffable sense of deep reverence and gratitude for Sri Guru Granth Sahib whose divine presence have imparted a purposeful meaning to this meaningless life.

Last but not least, I would like to express my heartiest thanks to S. Avtar Singh, proprietor, Kamal Computers, Opposite Punjabi University Patiala, for typing this work skillfully and well in time in an attractive manner.
