PREFACE

In the preparation of the study I have benefited from a large number of sources. First to all, I am immensely grateful to the authors and reporters whose findings and comments have served as raw material for this study and their source have been referred to appropriate places.

I record deep sense of gratitude for respected guide Dr. M.K. Sinha, Reader, Department of Economics, Nagaland university Lumami for his constant guidance, helpful discussion and valuable suggestions. Owing to his valuable guidance and regular encouragement could be able to complete this tough and tedious work. He helped me lot during the entire research period. I shall remain highly indebted to him throughout my life.

I tender my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. K.C. Bayan Ex-principal of MC collage, Barpeta (Assam) who allowed me to come Nagaland to start my research work providing me ‘No objection certificate’ from his fold. It was not possible to start my work without his consent.

In the sequence of the expression of my gratitude and indebtedness I specially remember my elder brother Late Girish Chandra Sarma Special correspondent, The Assam Tribune, Guwahati and Sri Mahesh Candra Sarma Ex - Zonal Manager STATFED, Guwahati (Assam) who inspired me to start research work. I shall remain highly indebted to them throughout my life.

I extend my sincere gratitude to my father Late Jogesh Sarma and deeply grateful to my mother Late Baneswari Devi who have always been a source of inspiration to follow the path of study.

I express my sincere thanks to my wife Mrs. Sarala Devi and my to Children - Sumi and Piku who bore the period of work patently and cheerfully.

A library like an open university, ocean of knowledge, brain as well as soul of researcher and students. My heartful gratitude to the librarians and all the library staff who helped me in the collection of scattered materials for the completion of my research work.
