ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

All praise is due to almighty Allah who is the ultimate source of Knowledge, a part of which He reveals to man and peace is upon all His messages throughout the world for guidance and success of mankind.

I am extremely greatly to my learned supervisor, Prof. Abdul Matin, Chairman Department of Sociology and Social work, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh for his guidance and sincere cooperation. His scholarly advice and substantive comments encourage me to keep thinking throughout the course of investigation and preparation of the manuscript of this dissertation. His generosity in sharing his thoughts and giving me his precious time is acknowledged with thanks. I express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. Noor Muhammed and other learned and distinguished teachers of the Department for their contribution to my intellectual growth and inspiration. I am also greatly indebted to all the scholars and authors whose works have been consulted or used in one or other way, in this work.

I thank the University Grant Commission (UGC) for providing me the necessary financial support during the course of my study. I would also like to thank the Library staff of Maulana Azad Library, AMU, History seminar Library, JNU, New Delhi; C.H. Muhammed Koya Library Calicut University, Maulana Abusabah Library Farook College Calicut, Legislative library, Trivandrum, staff for their kind cooperation.

Very Sincerely, I owe helpful thanks to all of my friends and seniors for their comments and complements. I am greatly indebted to Ubidulla sir, Sabeel, Saji for providing me their valuable time, comments and technical help.

Last but not least, my special thanks to my beloved father, mother, brothers, sisters, brother-in-laws, and sister-in-laws. They allowed me to devote a great amount of time for my M. Phil. course the time that I would normally have spent with them. Without their constant inspiration this dissertation could never have been completed. They have always been motivating me for completion of this work. Thus this dissertation is dedicated to them.
