ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I am profoundly indebted to Prof. M. Indira, my Research Guide, for her valuable guidance and inspiring encouragement for the completion of this thesis. The investigation reached its present shape only because of her erudition of my area of work which helped me develop a more critical and informed perspective throughout the research process.

My sincere thanks are due to all the teachers of the Department of Studies in Economics and Co-operation and other scholars for their valuable suggestions from time to time in the Department on various aspects of the present research work. All the teachers as well as staff of the Department have been of tremendous help to me in one or the other way. I am distinctively grateful to Dr. M. Mahesh who appreciated my idea of working and helped me in preparing this thesis.

I am grateful to the University Grants Commission (UGC), New Delhi for giving the research fellowship during June 2010 to June 2013 for pursuing research work.

I express my sincere gratitude to all the personnel of the Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan and the Department of Education, Government of Karnataka including District and Block Education Officers, Cluster and Block Resource Persons, Head Masters and teachers for their valuable help, guidance and inhibited cooperation towards successful completion of the research study.

I am thankful to all senior research scholars, fellow research scholars, juniors, friends and colleagues for their help and co-operation during the course of my research work.

Words are not enough to express my gratitude and indebtedness towards my beloved parents (Rakshaiah K. M. and Lakshmamma), brothers and family members who have always been a constant source of encouragement and support to me.

Finally, I express my deep sense of gratitude and thankfulness to all those who helped me directly and indirectly during the course of my research work.

R. Prasad