LIST OF FIGURES

Chapter I
Figure 1.1 Components of Stress Process ................................................................. 3
Figure 1.2 Sources of Stress at Work Place ............................................................. 4
Figure 1.3 Stressors under Nature of Work, Social and Organization Context .......... 6
Figure 1.4 Stages of General Adaptation Syndrome (GAS) ...................................... 10
Figure 1.5 Demand Control Support (DCS) Model .................................................. 11
Figure 1.6 Effort-Reward Imbalance (ERI) Model ................................................... 13
Figure 1.7 Comparison of all Presented Work Stress Models and Theories ............... 15
Figure 1.8 Progression of Research ...................................................................... 22

Chapter III
Figure 3.1 Theoretical Framework (based on Cognitive Theory of Psychological Stress and Coping) ........................................................................................................... 51
Figure 3.2 Conceptual Map .................................................................................... 53
Figures 3.3 to 3.9 present a comprehensive view of the method of data collection and type of analysis carried ................................................................................................. 70-76

Chapter IX
Figure 9.1 Major Occupational Stressors listed in Descending Order (most to least chosen. ........................................................................................................................................ 183
Figure 9.2 Occupational Stress Levels and the Factors causing Stress .......................... 184
Figure 9.3 Major Ways of Coping used by TSWs and Methods Used for each Way of Coping (descending order). ................................................................................................ 184
Figure 9.4 Inverse Relationship of Occupational Stress with Problem Focused Coping and Positive Ways of Distraction ............................................................................. 185
Figure 9.5 Variations in Perception of Stressors as per Sex of TSWs ....................... 186
Figure 9.6 Sex-wise Variations in Experiencing Occupational Stress and Coping by TSWs ........................................................................................................................................ 186
Figure 9.7 Variations in the Perception of Stressors as per Marital Status of TSWs ....... 187
Figure 9.8 Variations in Experiencing Occupational Stress and use of Coping as per Marital Status of TSWs ........................................................................................................ 187
Figure 9.9 Variations in the Perception of Stressors as per Work Setting of TSWs ....... 188
Figure 9.10 Variations in Experiencing Occupational Stress and use of Coping as per Work Settings of TSWs ................................................................. 188

Figure 9.11 Variations in the Perception of Stressors as per Work Experience of TSW ...... 189

Figure 9.12 Variations in Experiencing Occupational Stress as per Work Experience of TSWs .................................................................................................................. 189

Figure 9.13 Variations in the use of Ways of Coping as per Work Experience of TSWs….. ................................................................. 190

Figure 9.14 Variations in use of Ways of Coping as per Work Experience of TSWs .................................................................................................................. 190

Figure 9.15 Variations in Occupational Stress and Coping as per Education of TSWs .................................................................................................................. 191

Figure 9.16 Variations in Occupational Stress and Coping as per Job Levels of TSWs .................................................................................................................. 191

Figure 9.17 Variations in Experiencing Occupational Stress and use of Coping as per Salary of TSWs .................................................................................................................. 192