The political parties in their electoral fights encourage socio-economic inequalities and thus cause the inequalities to persist.

The sixth item in the objective resolution moved by Nehru in the Constituent Assembly read: “Wherein adequate safeguards shall be provided for minorities, backward and tribal areas; and depressed and other backward classes.

The period has been extended from time to time by means of Constitutional Amendments.

This clause 4 was added by the Constituent (First Amendment) Act 1951.

The words, Socialist and Secular were added by the 42nd Amendment Act, 1976.
