CONTENTS

Acknowledgements i-ii

Chapter 1 1-17
Introduction
1.1: Introduction
1.2: Research design
1.3: Objectives

Chapter 2 18-62
Social structure of Shia’s in Kashmir
2.1: Shia Muslims: General background
2.2: Origin and growth of Shiism
2.3: Origin of Shia Muslims in India
   2.3.1: The Behmani kingdom
   2.3.2: The Mughal period
   2.3.3: The Kashmir
   2.3.4: Oudh
2.4: Islam in Kashmir
2.5: Shiism in Jammu & Kashmir
2.6: Social Structure
2.7: Social structure of Shias with special reference to marriage payments in Srinagar
   2.7.1: Marriage rituals among Shias
   2.7.1.1: Ring ceremony or nabad nishain
   2.7.1.2: Nikah nishain or baed nishain
2.8: Types of gifts given among Shias
   2.8.1: Gifts given from bride’s side
   2.8.2: Gifts given from groom’s side
Chapter 3

Literature Review
3.1: Meaning of marriage payments
3.2: Types of marriage payments
3.3: Dowry, Bride wealth and Dower
3.4: Explanations of dowry
   3.4.1: Social status and dowry
   3.4.2: Female Property rights and dowry
   3.4.3: Colonialism and dowry
   3.4.4: Female work participation and dowry
   3.4.5: Hypergamy and dowry
3.5: Consequences of dowry

Chapter 4

Field study
4.1: Location and area under study
   4.1.1: History
   4.1.2: Population
   4.1.3: Language and religion
   4.1.4: Geography and physical features
4.2: Shias of Srinagar
   4.2.1: Quantitative Analysis of Data:
      4.2.1.1: Income as the criterion of dowry
      4.2.1.2: Education as the criterion of dowry
      4.2.1.3: Caste as the criterion of dowry
      4.2.1.4: Marital status as the criterion of dowry
      4.2.1.5: Residence or Area as the criterion of dowry
4.2.1.6: Age as the criterion of dowry
4.2.1.7: Significance of mehr on marriage
4.2.1.8: Female property rights and dowry

Case studies 157-209

Chapter 5 216-226

Conclusion

Tables:

Table 2.1: A chronological list of Holy Prophet (S.A.W), His daughter and the twelve Holy Imams 27-29
Table 2.2: Marriage payments 60
Table 4.1: Income and dowry 111
Table 4.2: Education and dowry 116
Table 4.3: Caste and dowry 121
Table 4.4: Marital status and dowry 127
Table 4.5: Residence and dowry 132
Table 4.6: Age and dowry 136
Table 4.7: Mehr is of tremendous significance in marriage 140
Table 4.8: Mehr is a sole property of women and they receive it 143
Table 4.9: Society gives bride the right to decide the amount of mehr 146
Table 4.10: People gives gifts to their daughters to compensate their share in parental property 150
Table 4.11: Girls get both parental property and dowry 153
Table 4.12: Marriage age of G1 generation 204
Table 4.13: Marriage age of G2 generation  205
Table 4.14: Marriage age of G3 generation  207

Maps:
Map 1.1: Map of Jammu & Kashmir  3
Map 4.1: Field study area, Srinagar  101
Map 4.2: Map of district Srinagar showing Shia  103
Muslim areas under study

Figures:
Figure 3.1: Marriage transactions  67
Figure 3.2: Work participation in India, 2001  91
Figure 4.1: Genealogical chart showing age at the  158
    time of marriage of case study no.1.
Figure 4.2: Genealogical chart showing age at the  161
    time of marriage of case study no.2.
Figure 4.3: Genealogical chart showing age at the  163
    time of marriage of case study no.3.
Figure 4.4: Genealogical chart showing age at the  166
    time of marriage of case study no.4.
Figure 4.5: Genealogical chart showing age at the  170
    the time of marriage of case study no.5.
Figure 4.6: Genealogical chart showing age at the  174
    time of marriage of case study no.6.
Figure 4.7: Genealogical chart showing age at the  177
    time of marriage of case study no.7.
Figure 4.8: Genealogical chart showing age at the  180
    time of marriage of case study no.8.
Figure 4.9: Genealogical chart showing age at the  183
time of marriage of case study no.9.
Figure 4.10: Genealogical chart showing age at the 186 time of marriage of case study no.10.
Figure 4.11: Genealogical chart showing age at the 189 time of marriage of case study no.11.
Figure 4.12: Genealogical chart showing age at the 192 time of marriage of case study no.12.
Figure 4.13: Genealogical chart showing age at the 194 time of marriage of case study no.13.
Figure 4.14: Genealogical chart showing age at the 197 time of marriage of case study no.14.
Figure 4.15: Genealogical chart showing age at the 201 time of marriage of case study no.15.
Figure 4.16: Functions and Dysfunctions of dowry 215 among Shias
Figure 5.1: Consequences of dowry and remedial 226 measures to be undertaken for resolving dowry conflicts

References 227-232
Bibliography 233-241
Websites 242
Glossary 243-246
Appendices 247-261