ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the very outset, my head kneels before Almighty Allah, the most Gracious and Benevolent, without whose blessings I would not have been able to complete my present work in time.

It gives me immense pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude to my esteemed Supervisor, Professor Saeeduzzafar, former Chairman, Department of Psychology, A.M.U., Aligarh, who took keen interest in the supervision of this thesis. It is because of his perceptive guidance, benevolent attitude and regular encouragement that the present work has seen the light of the day. His expert comments, valuable suggestions and many editorial efforts have enabled me to accomplish this task.

I do not have words to express my indebtedness to my erudite teacher and presently the Chairman, Professor Shamim Ahmad Ansari, Department of Psychology, A.M.U., Aligarh, who had been kind enough in advising and guiding me regularly in the completion of this work. I am extremely thankful to him for his ever sincere and scholarly help along with valuable suggestions at all stages of this work.
My sincere thanks are due to my esteemed teachers, Prof. Hamida Ahmad, Prof. Akbar Husain, Dr. Naheed Nizami, Dr. Mahmood S. Khan, Mrs. Asiya Aijaz, Dr. (Nafiz) Mohd. Ilyas and others for their valuable help during the completion of the thesis. I am extremely grateful to Dr. Nasheed Imtiaz, Lecturer, Department of Psychology, A.M.U. for rendering her whole hearted assistance for the completion of this thesis. Her patient and scholarly advice, regular encouragement and her ever helping nature has enabled me to complete the present task in time.

My sincere and heartfelt gratitude is due to my father in law, Prof. M. Yaseen Siddiqui and my mother-in-law for their scholarly advice and good wishes in the pursuit of this work. I am equally grateful to my dear father, Dr. Samiur Rehman Khan and my mother for their enlightened encouragements and affectionate advice during the preparation and completion of the present work. My sincere thanks are due to my brothers, sisters, brother-in-law and sister-in-laws for their utmost cooperation and their best wishes throughout the completion of this thesis. My hearty gratitude is due to my husband, Dr. Mohd. Ashraf for his scholarly advice, regular encouragement and sincere cooperation at all stages of this work.
I am equally beholden to the officers and assistant staff members of the Nationalised Banks of India in Aligarh (U.P) and Ratlam (M.P) who had been kind enough in taking personal interest and helping me in the process of data collection for the thesis.

Thanks are also due to my friends, Ashrita, Deep, Daud, Shadab, Shabana, Iram and Mrs. Reshma Siddiqui for their affectionate cooperations. I also express my deep sense of gratitude to the staff members of the Maulana Azad Library, A.M.U. and the Seminar Library, Department of Psychology, A.M.U. for their kind assistance and sincere cooperation during the preparation and completion of this work. I also wish to thank Mr. Mohd Riaz Khan for typing out the scripts neatly and making the thesis presentable.
