Acknowledgement

In the completion of this work I have received assistance and guidance of different nature from a number of persons. I feel it my pleasant obligation to place on record the acknowledgement of their contribution. Initially, I owe a deep sense of gratitude to my Supervisor, Prof. M. Mushtaque Ahmad (Chairman & Dean), Faculty of Commerce, A.M.U., Aligarh who inspired me to undertake this research work. Without his active help, guidance and encouragement, my goal would not have been accomplished. He gave me the liberty of encroaching upon his precious time, without prior appointment. He was always available for the consultation and enriched my mind with valuable suggestions. I feel honoured in expressing my profound gratitude to him.

I am highly obliged to Prof. Mohammad Ali of the Department of Commerce, for his encouragement and valuable comments which have added to the utility of this work. I am also grateful to Prof. Badar A. Iqbal and all the members of the teaching staff of the Department of Commerce, A.M.U., Aligarh, for their keen interest in my modest endeavours.

I would like to especially thank my brother Dr. Mohammad Jahangir Warsi (University of Michigan, U.S.A.) for assuming the role of a cheer leader and boosting up my courage throughout and particularly in those moments when I was suffering from the academic blues.
The present research work also required collection of some specific data from different sources. In this respect I am grateful to the staff of Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, New Delhi and National Council of Applied Economic Research, New Delhi, who wholeheartedly allowed me access to the required materials and extended all possible help to me.

I would never forgive myself if I failed to express my inexplicable gratitude towards my parents, brothers Md. Hasan Warsi, Md. Husain Warsi, Md. Anisur Rahman, M. Faiz Ahmad and M. Saif Ahmad and sisters Mrs. Asma Khatoon and Mrs. Shamima Khatoon, for the inspiration and consistent encouragement that I received from them.

My immense thanks are also due to my friends Mr. Md. Nazir Hussain, Mr. Abdul Hannan Ansari, Miss K. Foster, Mr. Vipul Kr. Srivastava for their moral support and encouragement. I am also thankful to Mr. Ali Hasan, Mr. Gauhar Abrar Naqvi and Mr. Anees of the seminar library of the Deptt. of Commerce for their cooperation and help.

Last but not the least, I would like to thank Mr. Abul Kalam Azad, Abdul Rizwan Azad and Abdul Irfan Azad of M/s Classic Computers, who took all the pains in meticulously typing the manuscript in a record time.

(Mohammad Khurshid Warsi)