Acknowledgement

I would like to express my profound gratitude, in the first instance, to my Supervisor Dr. N.K. Sinha for his invaluable support, encouragement, supervision and useful suggestions throughout this research work. His moral support and continuous guidance enabled me to complete my work successfully. It is a pleasure to pay tribute to my former Supervisor (Late) Prof. R. Gopalakrishnan, for shaping the foundation of this research and guidance from the very early stage. I am indebted to him in every possible way.

I gratefully acknowledge Prof. Z.H. Qureshi for his untiring helping hands and crucial contributions throughout this work. His truly scientist intuition has made him a constant oasis of ideas and passions in science, which inspire and enrich my growth as a student and a researcher. I also would like to record my gratitude to Dr. Lucy Zehol, Department of Anthropology, N.E.H.U. for her constructive comments and encouragement.

My gratitude also goes to Prof. A.C. Mohapatra, Head of Department and all my teachers as well as Office staffs in the Department for helping me in various ways. I convey special acknowledgement to my cousins K. Paul Capvung and Haupu Baite and friends Genminlun and Lalgolian who immensely contributed towards the collection of data from the sample villages. I also want to thank all my respondents and informants for their cooperation without this study might not have been possible.

I also express my deep sense of gratefulness to the ‘University Grants Commission’, New Delhi, for extending Doctoral Fellowship which enables me to do extensive fieldworks to complete this Study.
The helps rendered by my friends specially Khaipu, Mang, MKa, Wati, Charles, LSa, David B, Vizzy, Dindin, Lal, Bidya, K.Sharma, Arhomo and Sama are duly acknowledged with sincere thanks for the supports they have extended in one way or the other during the completion of this work. Thanks are also due to a number of people whose contributions to this work have been immense, though they remained un-named. All I can say is “Thank you, May God bless you all”.

My heartfelt gratitude to my parents Mrs. & Rev. K. Juanlam—the backbone of my career for their patient endurance and prayers throughout this work. My special thanks to my dear wife Kim for her encouragement and inspiration.

Lastly, I thank God for making all things possible.
