ACNOWLEDGEMENT

Thanks is such a little word, No bigger than a minute
But there is a world of meaning and appreciation in it…

Early in the process of completing this project, it became quite clear that a researcher cannot complete a Ph.D thesis alone. Although the list of individuals the author wishes to thank extends beyond the limits of this format, she would like to thank the following persons for their dedication, prayers and support.

The author expresses her sincere and reverential gratitude to Dr. T.S. Avinashilingam, the founder and first Chancellor of Avinashilingam Deemed University for Women and Padmashri Dr. (Mrs.) Rajamma P. Devadas, Former Chancellor, Avinashilingam Deemed University for Women, Coimbatore, for their heavenly blessings.

The author owes her sincere gratitude to Late Thiru. T.K. Shanmuganandam, Former Chancellor and Dr. T.S.K. Meenakshisundaram, Chancellor, Avinashilingam Deemed University for Women, Coimbatore, for all the amenities provided for the conduct of the study.

The author is highly indebted to Dr. (Mrs.) Saroja Prabhakaran, Former Vice-Chancellor and Dr. (Mrs.) Sheela Ramachandran, Vice-Chancellor, Avinashilingam Deemed University for Women, Coimbatore, for extending all possible help towards the completion of the study.

The author expresses her deep sense of gratitude to Dr. (Mrs.) Gowri Ramakrishnan, Registrar, Avinashilingam Deemed University for Women, Coimbatore, for her immense help for the smooth conduct of the study.

The author expresses her deep sense of gratitude to Dr. (Mrs.) R. Parvatham, Dean, Faculty of Science, Professor and Head, Department of Biochemistry, Biotechnology and Bioinformatics, Avinashilingam Deemed University for Women, Coimbatore, for her valuable support rendered throughout the study.
The author expresses her deep and sincere gratitude to her supervisor, Dr. (Mrs.) G.P. Jeyanthi, Professor, Department of Biochemistry, Biotechnology and Bioinformatics, Avinashilingam Deemed University for Women, Coimbatore. Her wide knowledge and her logical way of thinking have been of great value for the work. Her understanding, encouraging and personal guidance have provided a good basis for the present thesis.

The author places on record her heartfelt thanks to Dr. D. Chandrasekaran, Professor and Head, Department of Animal Nutrition, Tamil Nadu Veterinary and Animal Sciences University, Namakkal and Dr. G. Venkateswaran, Scientist, Food Microbiology Department, Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI), Mysore, for their valuable suggestions in the formulation of the broiler feed in the supplementation study and in the organism screening.

Special thanks to Mr. R. Kumaresan, Technical Assistant and Mrs. Pradeepa, Project JRF, Centre for Cellular and Molecular Biology, Hyderabad, for extending all necessary help in strain identification.

The author records her sincere thanks to Dr. Puroshothaman, Associate Professor, Department of Animal Nutrition, Tamil Nadu Veterinary and Animal Sciences University, Namakkal, for extending all necessary help to carry out the animal trial.

Words are inadequate to express her sincere thanks to her uncle and aunt Mr. K. Venugopal and Mrs. V. Kousalya for their invaluable support and kind help offered during the animal study by providing the poultry farm.

The author expresses her sincere thanks to Indian Academy of Science, National Academy of Science and Indian National Science Academy and Dr. M.S. Shaila, Scientist, Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore, for offering the fellowship and providing an opportunity for learning basic techniques related to the research work.
Sincere thanks are due to Dr. Gopinath, Ms. Seemana and Mr. Giriprakash, Research fellows, Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore and Ms. Snigdha, Research fellow, Central Food Technological Research Institute, Mysore, for making her feel at home during her stay at the institutions for the execution of her experimental studies.

The author sincerely thanks the Management and former Principal Dr. C. Swaminathan, Kongu Arts and Science College, Erode, for permitting her to register for Ph.D and granting permission to complete her research studies.

The author thanks all her colleagues and students of Kongu Arts and Science College, Erode, for their help during the course of the study.

The author wishes to thank her friends, relatives and all well wishers who have extended their valuable support during the course of the study.

Last but not the least, the author would like to thank her family. The constant inspiration and guidance kept her focused and motivated. She is grateful to her dad for giving the life she ever dreamt. She cannot express her gratitude to her mom in words, whose unconditional love has been her greatest strength. The constant support and encouragement of her brother Mr. C. Pradeep, M.E is sincerely acknowledged.

The author expresses her deep sense of gratitude to her husband Dr. S.N. Ganesha Moorthy, M.D for the unconditional sacrifices, encouragement and moral support that helped her to fulfill this goal in her life. The author owes her loving thanks to her daughters Iniyaa Ganesh and Oviyaa Ganesh for their smile which inspired to complete the work on time. Their love and charming words have upheld, particularly in those many times in which the author spent more time with the computer than with them. The author dedicates this thesis to her family.

Finally, greatest regards to the Almighty for bestowing upon the author the courage to face the complexities of life and complete this project successfully.
