ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I owe my intellectual indebtedness to my supervisor, Dr H.A.S. Jafri, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh for his able guidance and benign cooperation. I am obliged to Dr S.A.H. Bilgrami, Chairman, Department of Political Science, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, for his constant encouragement and guidance.

I feel equally obliged to Dr T.T. Poulose, Chairman, Center for International Politics and Organisation, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, who despite his very heavy academic preoccupations could find time to help me.

My thanks are also due to Dr Bhawani Sen Gupta, Research Professor, Centre for Policy Research, New Delhi; Dr Maheder Kumar, Professor, Department of Political Science, Delhi University Delhi; Shri K.C. Pant (M.P), now Union Minister, Government of India, Col. Rama Rao (Retd); Dr I.N. Tiwari, Chairman, Institute of Advance Studies, Meerut University, Meerut and Dr H.P. Singh, Head, Department of Political Science, N.A.S. College, Meerut. Frequent discussions on the complex issue of proliferation of nuclear weapons enabled me to sift grain from the chaff.

I have directly or indirectly benefitted from the personal discussions and through the writings of K. Subramanyam, Director of Defence Studies and Analysis (IDSA). I also express my gratitude to Dr B.M. Kaushik, Dr O.N. Mehrotra and Dr R.R. Subramangam, all on the research staff of the IDSA for their cooperation.

I may further acknowledge the help received from M/s K.C. Pandey and P.C. Mathur of the Department of Political Science, University of Rajasthan, Jaipur, in the preparation of guidelines for interview.

I am also thankful to the Librarian and other staff members of the ICWA Library, UN Information Centre, IDSA Library, JNU Library, Library of the Ministry of External Affairs, the Central Secretariat Library, all in New Delhi; and Maulana Azad Library (AMU) Aligarh, for their willing help in making available the requisite research material.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not mention the monumental patience of my father late Pt. Ram Swaroop Tiwari who boosted my morale till last breath, and my wife and children who encouraged and inspired me in pursuing my research despite hardships and personal discomfort.
