Acknowledgements

This study was carried out under the supervision of Dr. V. Nithyanantha Bhat. I am extremely grateful to him for his scrupulous and perceptive comments on this study and for the various stimulating discussions on each chapter included in this thesis. His scholarship and general editing have done much to improve the readability of this work.

I am also thankful to Dr. Winny Varghese, Principal, Mar Athanasius College, Kothamangalam, for all his valuable help and unstinting assistance and timely support extended to me while I was a research scholar in his esteemed institution.

My grateful thanks also go to Mr. Paul Mathew, Head, Department of English, Mar Athanasius College, Kothamangalam, for all his service, gracious cooperation and sincere assistance. I also offer my most sincere thanks to Dr. D. Radhakrishnan, the former Director of the Research Centre for all his helpful comments and suggestions.

I am thankful to the Management of Mar Thoma College for Women, Perumbavoor and the UGC for having awarded me a Teacher Fellow Scholarship under its IXth Plan. But for this generous help it would have been extremely difficult for me to pursue my Ph.D. programme to its completion.
Thanks are also due to the librarians and other library staff of the M.P. Varghese Library and the Research Centre Library at Mar Athanasius College, Kothamangalam; The Study Centre for Indian Literature in English and Translation (SCILET), American College, Madurai; Central Institute of English and Foreign Languages (CIEFL), Hyderabad; K. Lalitha Study Centre, Hyderabad; M.G.University, Kottayam; and Pune University, Pune; The English Department Library at Mar Thoma College for Women, Perumbavoor, for their valuable help and co-operation in offering prompt library services whenever needed.

To my fellow researchers, specially Mrs. Roslin, Mrs. Devaki Antharjanam, Mrs Sandhya Pai and others at the Research Centre at Mar Athanasius College I extend my unbounded thanks for all the valuable support given to me during the period of my research work.

My family members especially my husband and children deserve special thanks for all their support, patience and encouragement all throughout this programme.

Thanks are also due to some of my sincere friends at Mar Thoma College, Perumbavoor, who encouraged me with positive strokes in times of extreme frustration.

Above all I thank God Almighty for all His mercies and unfailing grace without which this work would have been impossible.

Mariam Kuruvilla Joseph.
