BIBLIOGRAPHY

A report by Alok Industries Ltd.

Associated Chamber of Commerce and Industry of India (ASSOCHAM) A report on Indian Textile to grow 16 % per annum.

Chandra, P. (2006). The Textile and Apparel Industry in India.: Indian Institute of Management (IIM,) Ahmedabad, India

CRISILIL Research annual review on Readymade Garments 2007-2008

Dr Shahid Alam, Thesis on “Marketing Strategies of Readymade Garments Industry of India” Aligarh Muslim University, India. Published in 2011

DushyantKaramchandani, Northbridge Capital, Indian Retail Apparel Research, January 2011

Environmental Standards and Trade: A Study of Indian Textile and Clothing Sector. e-to-CUTS* International Hansman, Harrie, and Veronique Schutjens (1993), "Dynamics in Market Segmentation: A Demographic Perspective on Age Specific Consumption." Marketing and Research Today, (September), 139-47.

Human Resource and Skill Requirements in the Organised Retail Sector (2022) – A Report (National Skill development Corporation) prepared by ICRA Management Consultancy services Pp. 6-7

Jagannathan (2008),”Indian Apparel Sector: Industry Profile” Indian Apparel Scenario: A Glance, Apparel Export Promotion Council (AEPC), Mumbai

xv

Joyce Antar and Donya Gholimafir, June 2006. Thesis on “CRM in Fashion Companies for Men’s wear”

K. ParimalaKanthi, Dr. M. Ashok Kumar (2013). The Impact of Business Strategies on Readymade Garments Market at Thrissur District in Kerala. Global Research AnalysisVolume : 2 | Issue : 1 | Jan 2013 • ISSN No 2277 – 8160

Neil H. Borden in his 1953 AMA Presidential Address.

NSSR report on “Household consumption of various goods and services in India” (2007).

Scheer, D, F. Rubik and S. Gold.(2008).Enabling Developing Countries to seize Eco- Labelling Opportunities.Project Background Paper. Institute for Ecological Economy Research, Germany

Steenkamp, J., F. terHofstede and M. Wedel, “A cross-national investigation into the individual and national Von Stackelberg, H. (1939).Theorie Der Vertriebspolitik und Der Qualitätsvariation. SmollersJahrbuch, 63(1).

