List of Tables

Table 4.A  Factors of significantly different stress variables  121
Table 4.1  Homework interfering with organizational work  122
Table 4.2  Lack of career support and appreciation from family members  124
Table 4.3  Recognition and personal development through organizational work  125
Table 4.4  Unpredictable role expectations at homework  127
Table 4.5  Shortage of time for social and religious functions  128
Table 4.6  Interest in organizational work  129
Table 4.7  Satisfaction with service to family  130
Table 4.8  Sacrifices for the family  131
Table 4.9  Interest in homework  132
Table 4.10  Autonomy at organizational work  133
Table 4.B  Factors of not significantly different stress variables  135
Table 4.11  Role overload  136
Table 4.12  Personal development at organizational work  138
Table 4.13  Role support from family members  139
Table 4.14  Role expectations of family members  141
Table 4.15  Conformity to family expectations  141
Table 4.16  Training and role models for homework  142
Table 4.17  Lack of role clarity at homework  143
Table 4.18  Priority to organizational work than home  144
List of Figures

| Fig. 4.1 | Factors of significantly different stress variables | 120 |
| Fig. 4.2 | Factors of not significantly different stress variables | 134 |
| Fig. 4.3 | Role episode | 147 |
| Fig. 4.4 | Role episode factors | 148 |
| Fig. 4.5 | Factors of coping | 151 |
| Fig. 4.6 | Factors of general orientation | 153 |
| Fig. 4.7 | Coping - attitude to sex roles | 159 |
| Fig. 4.8 | Coping orientation | 164 |
| Fig. 4.9 | Model of stress | 176 |