Appendix-3
PICTURE PERCEPTION TEST

This is my India!
Case Study #1

I am eleven years old. I come from a small village. I left my home to come to the city and work to send money to my family. A man offered me a job at the train station. Now I'm working in a factory making T-shirts. I work twelve hours a day for little money. The factory is very dirty and hot. There are hardly any windows and sometimes it's hard to breathe. The boss is very mean. He makes us work very hard without breaks. The other kids and I want to leave but we all know that the factory work is better than begging in the streets. The boss tells us this every day. We do what he says.
