ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

With the completion of this thesis I want to acknowledge the following-
First of all my heartfelt gratitude goes to-

- The UGC for supporting me during the course of my studies.
- Prof. Juanita War, my guide, without whose encouragement, this research would never have started in the first place. I thank her for all the support, the guidance, the advice and the patience she showed me. Her dedication will always be a challenge and an inspiration to me.
- Dr. A.K. Mishra, The Head of Department, Linguistics, for his understanding, his valuable suggestions and also for his generosity in lending me his books.
- Dr. Badaplin War, my teacher and Head of Department, Khasi, for taking the time, inspite of her busy schedule, to help me.
- My dear friends Barika, Sara and Deborah, Lecturers, Linguistics Deptt., for sharing with me the privacy of their rooms and for always making me feel welcome in the department.

I am ever grateful to-

- Dr. Thangi Chhangte who has helped me right from the start by providing me with all the books and materials I needed as well as with financial aid. I thank her for taking me along on her field trips to Arunachal and for giving me all the right suggestions.
- The family at ‘Graces’ for always welcoming me into their home during my frequent visits and stays at Shillong.
- The BCM leaders and all at AICS for their prayer support.
I am thankful to –

- All my informants, especially my friend, C. Pachhunga, who took a keen interest in my work, and who also, introduced me to other informants.
- The Library staff at Calcutta University for letting me use their library.

Next I thank –

- U Ruateii & the girls for their hospitality,
- Laspuii & Mazuali of Balgito for taking me in as their guest.
- Zara for his helpfulness.

The last part is reserved for my family. My very special thanks is saved for –

- My parents for always believing in me and for constantly encouraging me. For their moral and financial support and making me believe in myself.
- My husband, who is the ‘wind beneath my wings’, without him I couldn’t have done it.
- My daughters, Priscilla and Phoebe, for giving me so much joy in times I would otherwise have drowned in misery.

Above everyone and everything else I thank God, my Father, for making things possible for me.
