PREFACE

To acknowledge one's debts is not easy. When one begins to reflect, one is overwhelmed. My debts are to many. My first debt is, certainly, to my own Maker and in profound worship I 'offer' it to Him. I am thankful to all the others who have helped me in one or other way. I cannot but very specially remember a few.

It is my proud privilege to place on record my debt of gratitude to my beloved professor and supervisor Dr. George Madathiparambil, Principal, St. Berchmans' College, Changanacherry whose able guidance and timely help have enabled me to realise my long-cherished dream. From the waste and void that was the researcher's mind he led it on, from darkness to light, and from light to illumination. This work will ever remain a symbol of my guru's invincible goodness.

I would like to express my gratitude to Visva Bharati University which hosted me and helped me in collecting part of the material for my thesis. Its illustrious sons Dr. Siairkumar Ghose, Dr. Naresh Guha, Dr. Amya Chakravarthy and others were of immense help to me while I was there working at the source material. I would like to thank the Librarians of the Visva Bharati University Library and Rabindra Bhavana Library for keeping the mines of information open to me.

Again I would like to thank Dr. C.P. Sivadasan, Professor and Head of the Department of English, University of Calicut, for his help, advice and encouragement. I place on record my heartfelt thanks to Fr. Thomas Mattappally the very generous Librarian of St. Berchmans' College for the manifold services he rendered to me during my research work. Last but not least thank Shri K.K. Mohanan whose neat typing the text bears out.
