ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I deem it my privilege to place on record my sense of gratitude to my Research Supervisor Prof. A.V. Ramana, Head, Department of Commerce, S.K. University, Anantapur who has been a perennial source of inspiration, encouragement, love and affection and helped me for the successful completion of my research work. Indeed, I am grateful to him for his able guidance, meticulous care and caution while going through the manuscript inspite of his busy work both at office and home.

I humbly express my sincere thanks to Prof. H. Lajipathi Rai, Dean, Faculty of Commerce and Management Studies, Prof. K.V. Ramana Reddy, Chairman, Board of Studies, Department of Commerce, S.K. University, Anantapur for lending their help at various stages of my research programme and provided me supportive climate in the Department to carryout my research.

I am equally thankful to Prof. C.R. Reddy, Prof. B. Sobha Rani and Prof. D. Anjaneyulu who have been kind enough and extended moral encouragement during the period of my research. I am specially thankful to Prof. B. Phaniswara Raju who have given me constructive suggestions on the improvement of the thesis. I honestly acknowledge my thanks to him.

I pay my humble obeisance to my beloved parents Late Sri M. Subbarayudu, Smt. M. Subbamma, who nursed and nurtured and showered their blessings, inspired me for higher studies and helped me in all walks of my life. I sincerely dedicate this thesis to the lotus feet of my father who left his mortal body just before this work was completed but who wished to see this work completed, esteemed father, salutations to thee!

I am beholden to my uncle Sri C. Samba Sivudu, and Aunty Smt. C. Ramalakshmi for their constant love and blessings for carrying this work.

To make this work really worthwhile and successful, a host of Departmental officials have extended their helping hands. Sri N.S.B.R. Chandra Prasad, Chairman-cum-Managing Director, National Insurance Company Ltd., Kolkata, accorded permission to pursue research programme on the topic, Sri N.L. Venkata Rao, Manager, NICL, Hyderabad, spared his valuable time and clarified the doubts raised by me over phone calls. I earnestly thank them. I am equally benefitted a lot by the assistance and help extended by Sri B. Narayana, Assistant Manager, Sri S. Hari Prasada Rao, Accounts Officer, NICL, Anantapur for their generous help in supplying me necessary documents and also for their moral support and hospitality. I thank them a lot.

I express my heart-felt thanks with profound respect to Sri Palle Raghunatha Reddy, M.L.A., Puttaparthi and Chairman Sri Balaji Educational Society who has been behind me for my present status and invisible guiding force for successful completion of this research programme. I also profusely thank Smt. Palle Uma for her love and affection showing towards me.
I express my grateful thanks to Sri B.V. Mohan Reddy, formerly, Minister for Municipal Administration, Dr. B.J. Nageswara Reddy for their elderly affection and blessings for my development.

I sincerely thank Sri B. Ramajaneyulu, I.A.S., District Magistrate & Collector, Guntur for his elderly blessings and affection towards me.

I also take this opportunity to acknowledge my sincere thanks to Prof. B. Krishna Reddy, Registrar, S.K. University, Anantapur who has been quite often enquires about my academic progress and family well-being.

I had the privilege to avail the willful help and assistance extended by Sri D.N. Subbanna, Sri B. Raghavendra Prasad, Mr. K. Chakradhar, Dr. R. Ramanaidu, Mr. M. Mallikarjuna Rao, Mr. A. Suresh Babu, Mr. R. Sreenivas, Dr. N. Vimala, Dr. N.V. Nagalakshmi, Mr. P. Adinarayana Rao, Sri G. Srinivasa Rao and teaching other non-teaching staff of P.V.K.K. Degree College, Anantapur I sincerely owe them for all the cooperation and help extended while carrying out my research work.

I am immensely happy to acknowledge my sincere thanks to Prof. B. Ramachandra Reddy, Department of Commerce, S.V. University, Tirupati for his help in the analysis of some financial statements and equally thank to Prof. K.L.A.P. Sharma and Prof. P. Md. Akthar, Department of Statistics, S.K. University, Anantapur for their help in statistical analysis and interpretation.

I would like to express my special thanks to Mr. E. Kamalakara, Research Scholar, Department of Commerce, S.K. University, whose academic interaction and support made this academic endeavour possible.

I heartfully appreciate and admire my wife Smt M. Lakshmi, my son Sai Gowtham (Rinku) and daughter Sai Amrutha (Honey, Bangaru), K. Mokshitha (Pandu) for their patience and sacrifice made for putting up with the strain during months that I had to spend in preparing the thesis.

I am delighted to enjoy the elderly best wishes of Sri B. Venkata Naidu, Co-operative Town Bank, Anantapur, Dr. Para Narayana, Lecturer-cum-Asistant Director, Department of CSSEIP, S.K. University, Anantapur and instilled in me a sense of encouragement for early completion of my research project.

I sincerely acknowledge all the authors of various books, articles, research papers, reports, and others who have been directly or indirectly helped me in using their ideas as examples. However, I accept the sole responsibility for any possible errors of omission and commission in the analysis.

Last but not the least, I appreciate, admire and acknowledge my thanks to Mr. G.W. Raja Rao for his excellent computer work and helping attitude with smiling face although my research work.
