ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This work is carried on under the active supervision and guidance of Dr. Shiv Sahai Singh, Professor, Department of Law, Burdwan University. It would not be possible to complete this work without his scholastic supervision, perceptive guidance and boundless endurance in shaping the project. This debt cannot be discharged by mere expression of words. I express my deep sense of gratitude for his untiring efforts to achieve the ultimate end.

Professor Amit Kumar Mallik, Vice-Chancellor, University of Burdwan has extended all kinds of co-operation to me during my research study, I am highly grateful to him. Sincere regards are also due to Dr. Manick Chakraborty, Dr. Sarit Kumar Sadhu and Dr. Paresh Kumar Acharya, and all other teachers of the Department of Law, University of Burdwan for their advice and co-operation. My thanks also goes to Professor Dr. M. K. Nag, Department of Law, University of Calcutta, and all other teachers of the Department of Law, University of Calcutta, for their help and assistance.
I also owe a debt of gratitude to all my colleagues and friends in the legal profession who have stood by me and encouraged me in my research. I express my special gratitude to my friend Mr. Rajib Kumar Basak, Advocate, for his enthusiasm and encouragement.

Of course, I will fail in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to my parents Dr. Madan Mohan Patra and Smt. Pratima Patra. My special gratitude goes to my wife Barnali and son Bibaswan for their forbearance and unstinted co-operation without which I would not have been able to undertake and accomplish the task. I also express my gratitude to all my relatives who encouraged me in this task.

I am indebted to the staff of the University of Burdwan who have been very kind and have always co-operated with me whenever required, for which I express my gratitude. I am also indebted to many known and unknown persons for their invaluable assistance in gathering much of the materials for this research. I am grateful to them for their help and assistance. I also extend my gratitude to Dhar Brothers who carefully took up the task of printing and binding this thesis.
