CONTENTS

CHAPTER -I

A VICTIM OF CRIME AND COMPENSATION LAWS
1.1. Introduction.................................................................1
1.2. Statement of the problem...............................................6
1.3. Literature review .........................................................7
1.4. Conceptual framework ...............................................23
1.5 Objectives ......................................................................23
1.6. Hypotheses .................................................................24
1.7. Methodology ...............................................................24
1.8. Scope of study ............................................................24
1.9. Plan of the Study ........................................................24

CHAPTER-II

CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM AND VICTIMIZATION
2.1 THEORIES OF VICTIMOLOGY .............................................26
i. The Study of Victimology .................................................26
ii. Theories in Victimology ................................................28

2.2. CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM IN INDIA ..........................30
i. Investigation: .................................................................32
ii. Prosecution .................................................................33
iii. Trial .............................................................................34

2.3. CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM AGENCIES' ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES ..........................................................47
i. Law Enforcement ..........................................................47
ii. Prosecution .................................................................49
iii. Trial .............................................................................50
iv. Judiciary .........................................................................53
v. Probation .........................................................................55
vi. Corrections .....................................................................56
vii. Parole ...........................................................................58 viii. Allied Professionals ....................................................61

2.4. INSTITUTIONALISATION OF VICTIMS' STATUS AND RIGHTS.62
i. Guiding Principles ........................................................67
ii. Principles for the establishment of victims' rights .............67
iii. Victims' Rights ............................................................69
a. Respect and recognition ..............................................70
b. Right to receive information ........................................71
c. Right to provide information ........................................71
d. Legal Advice ...............................................................73
e. Protection .........................................................................73
f. Compensation .............................................................74
g. General Conditions .....................................................75
CHAPTER -III
THE CONCEPT OF COMPENSATION
3.1 INTRODUCTION ................................................. 80

3.2. COMPENSATION & RESTITUTION - CIVIL & CRIMINAL LAW........ 80
i. Restitution .........................................................80
ii. The difference between restitution and compensation: ...............81
iii. The difference between restitution and civil damages ...............83
iv. Courts may order full or partial restitution ...............................84
v. Collecting restitution ................................................84
vi. Dichotomy between the Civil and Criminal cases ......................87

3.3 VICTIMS OF CRIME - CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM....88
i. The Criminal Justice System ........................................89
ii. The Civil Justice System ............................................90
iii. Burden of Proof ....................................................90
iv. Third-Party Liability .............................................91
v. Considerations for Pursuing Civil Justice ...............................91
vi. Statutes of Limitation .............................................92
vii. Compensatory Ideals In Criminal Law And Civil Law .............93

3.4. BASIC PRINCIPLES OF COMPENSATION / DAMAGES...............95
i. Damages and Compensation in Tort: ..................................96
ii. Damage as an Element in Tort: .......................................98
iii. Principle Underlying Tortious Liability: ...............................98
iv. Uncertainty or Difficulty in Quantifying Damages: .....................99
v. Recovery of Damages in Torts: ........................................102
vi. Assessment of Damages: ............................................103

3.5 A NEW VISION ON COMPENSATION TO VICTIMS OF CRIME ......105
i. Common Law Regarding Compensation In Torts And Crimes........110
ii. The Socio-Economic And Legal Dimensions Of Compensation ....113
iii. United Nations Declaration of Basic Principles of Justice for Victims of Crime and Abuse of Power -1985 ....................................115
iv. Crime Scenario in India ................................................121

3.6. JUSTIFICATION FOR VICTIM COMPENSATION .......................124
i. Purpose of compensation ..............................................126
ii. Limitations ............................................................129
iii. Concerns for compensation ...........................................131
iv. Determining compensation .............................................133
v. Factors determining compensation .......................................136
vi. Compensation Delivery Model .........................................136

CHAPTER-IV
VICTIMS OF CRIME AND COMPENSATION PRACTICES IN INDIAN SYSTEM
4.1 INTRODUCTION .....................................................139
4.2 JUDICIAL TRENDS IN COMPENSATORY JURISPRUDENCE UNDER INDIAN CONSTITUTION ............................................140
i. Payment of Compensation under Indian Constitution: ................140
ii. Custodial death ......................................................146
iii. Police atrocities .....................................................157 iv Encounter killing ............................. 159
v. Illegal detention .......................................................... 163
vi. Disappearances ............................................................ 169 vii. Abuse of Power ........................................................... 171 viii. Compensation in Criminal law ................................. 185
ix. Award of Compensation in Rape Cases .......................... 192
x. Cases where Compensation was not Awarded .......................... 194

4.3 COMPENSATION UNDER THE SPECIAL LAWS ................. 199
i. Compensation under the Motor Vehicle Act .................. 200
iii. Compensation To The Victims Of Violence By Left Wing Extremists ................. 207
iv. Compensation To The Victims Of Communal Violence ......... 207
v. The Special Laws Where No Compensation Is Provided For Victims 209
a. Prevention of Food Adulteration Act, 1954 ................. 209
b. Protection of Civil Rights Act, 1955 ............................. 210
c. The Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 ............................... 211
d. Environment Protection Act, 1986 ................................. 212

4.4 Rules Embodied For Compensation And Protection Of The Victims ............. 214
i. Compensation for Loss or Injury Caused by the Commission of an Offence. 214 ii. Compensation in the Case of Groundless Threats of Legal Proceedings: .. 215
iii. Compensation for Vexatious Proceedings: ........................................ 215
iv. Compensation to Person for Misconduct ............................................ 217
v. Compensation to Victims of Emergency: ............................................ 219
vi. Compensation to Workmen under Social Security Laws: ........................................ 221
vii. Cases In Which Victims Of Crime Are Protected In Other Ways .......................... 221

4.5 ROLE OF NATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION OF INDIA 224
i. Compensation to Victims of Crime and National Human Rights Commission 227
ii. Cases Involving Custodial Deaths: ............................................. 231
iii. Lodging Mentally ill in Jail is a Violation of Human Rights ......................... 233
iv. Cases Involving Killings in Police Firings: ....................................... 235
v. Cases involving victims of Blasts, Riots, etc.: ...................................... 235
vi. Cases involving Prison Administration ................................................. 236

4.6 THE IDEA OF COMPENSATION TO VICTIMS OF CRIMES AND ABUSE OF POWER DEVELOPED BY THE INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS .............................................................................. 241
i. Table Of Compensation Schemes In Different Countries ......................... 242

CHAPTER-V

VICTIMS RIGHTS, TRAUMA & EXPECTATIONS .............................. 244

5.1. Victims' Rights ................................................................. 245
i. Right to Notification about the Crl. Justice Process & Other Legal Remedies 246
ii. Right to Attend and Participate in Criminal Justice Proceedings ................. 247
iii. Protection from Intimidation and Harassment ........................................... 247
iv. Right to Notice of Release or Escape of Offender ....................................... 248
v. Financial Assistance: Crime Victim Compensation ....................................... 249
vi. Collecting Restitution .............................................................................. 252
vii. Protection From Harassment .................................................................... 252 5.2 VICTIM TRAUMA

i. Trauma of Victimization .............................................................. 254
ii. Crisis Intervention ........................................................................ 255
iii. Post traumatic Stress Disorder .................................................... 260
iv. Classical Conditioning Theory ..................................................... 264
v. Crime-related Psychological Trauma ............................................. 266

5.3 VICTIM EXPECTATIONS ............................................................... 277

i. Privacy and the Media ................................................................... 277
ii. Victim Impact Statements .............................................................. 279
iii. Right to Privacy Legislation .......................................................... 281

CHAPTER VI

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

ROLE OF STATE AND CIVIL SOCIETY TOWARDS VICTIMS OF CRIME

6.1 ROLE OF STATE ................................................................. 283

i. Police And Victim Assistance ......................................................... 288
ii. Prosecutors And Victim Assistance .............................................. 299
iii. The Judicial Role In Justice For The Victim .................................. 303
iv. The Role Of Finance Planners For Victim Funding And Financial Recovery.. 308

6.2 ROLE OF CIVIL SOCIETY .................................................. 310

i. Clergy, spiritual and informal leaders ............................................. 310
ii. Landlords Or Housing Entities ...................................................... 312
iii. Employers ................................................................................... 313
iv. News Media Professionals ............................................................ 314
v. Mental Health Providers ............................................................... 318
vi. Health Care Professionals ............................................................ 320
vii. Embassies, Consulates, And Foreign Missions .......................... 322 viii. Plan Of Action To Handle Victimization .................................... 323
ix. Prisons And Alternative Sanctions .............................................. 324
x. Schools, Universities And Institutes ............................................ 327

6.3. SUGGESTIONS ............................................................................. 331

APPENDIX-1 ......................................................................................... 336

BIBLIOGRAPHY .................................................................................... 1-8

LIST OF RELEVANT WEBSITES .................................................... 1-5

LIST OF CASES .................................................................................... 1-4