ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

It would be envisaging to offer salutations at the feet of Lord Shri Shiridi Sai Baba, who kindly imbued the energy and enthusiasm through ramifying paths of my thick and thinning of the efforts.

No words would sustain the appreciation for eager involvement and encouragement of Dr M.D. Bavaiah, my research supervisor in the Department of Economics, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur, without whose supervision the present work would not have been completed.

My sincere thanks are due to Prof. G. Satyanarayana, professor of Economics, S.K University, Anantapur, for inculcating interest in this field of study. I am beholden to him for it is his inspiration, which has been the guiding lamp in the completion of the study.

I am thankful to my teachers, Prof. C. Venkata Reddy, Professor of Economics and Principal, S. K University College, Anantapur; Prof. N.Narayana, who is presently at Botswana University, Botswana, as visiting Professor; Prof. K. Nageswara Rao, Professor of Economics; Prof. M. Jaya Raj, Professor and Head, Department of economics and other teachers in the Department of Economics, S.K University, Anantapur, for their whole hearted encouragement in the completion of this work.

I take the opportunity to express my profound sense of gratitude to Sri H.K. Amarnath, Assistant Professor, Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore, for extending cooperation and help in the collection and processing of data for this research work.

I am thankful to Dr S.Erappa, Assistant Professor, Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore, for his constant encouragement and help in the completion of this research work.
I am thankful to Mr. Ravindra Naik, Data analyst, Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore, for his kind help in the processing of data for this research work.

I bow my head in reverence and gratitude to my parents, Smt. A. Shanthamma and Sri. A. Ramachandra Reddy, whose blessings, has all along been an abiding inspiration to me in my studies.

I am thankful to my brothers, A.R. Jagadish Reddy and A. R. Bhaskar Reddy, for their sacrifices and for bearing the strain of domestic responsibilities during my absence when I went far of places for the collection of data for this study. My thanks are also due to my brother-in-law, M. Shivananda Reddy, my sister M. Manjula and my brother A Maruthi for their cooperation and financial help for my research work.

I am thankful to my colleagues, I. Srinivasulu, D.Lakshminarayana, S.Subbarayudu, Sanjeevrayudu, Radhakrishna Reddy, Narayana Reddy, M.Chowdappa, P.V.Ramana Reddy for their kind cooperation during my research work.

I am thankful to my friends, Mr. Ramagovindanna, Kampa Prasad, Gampa Prasad, Bhabhai Prasad, Ajay, Dada Kalander, Ismail, Bhadri Govind, Hemanth Raju, Mohan, Mahesh, B.V.Manjunath, A.N.Murthy, Manohar, Surendra, Reddappa, Abdul Ajeem, for their kind help for my research work.

I am also thankful to N. Sreedhar & members of family, G. Umashanker, K.N. Srinivas, K.V.Madhusudhana, L.Kondappa, B.Prasanna Kumar, Basavaraju of Pavagada and Dr. K.J.Parameshwar, Rajeev Kumar, Muni Reddy, Manjunath, Sharnappa, Rajendra Desai, K.Narayana, I.R.Patil, Krishnegowda, Ananth, of ISEC, Banagalore, for their encouragement in my research work.

Finally, I express my cordial thanks to Sri V. Sahadevan, who typed this thesis neatly.

A. VENUGOPALA REDDY