CONTENTS

Preface Page (i)
Acknowledgement (ii)

CHAPTER 1
Part I ECONOMIC ANTHROPOLOGY IN THE STUDY OF THE PRIMITIVE PEOPLE IN TRANSITION 1
Part II OBJECTIVES OF STUDY AND METHODOLOGY 26
Part III TRADITIONAL SOCIETY AND ECONOMY OF THE GAROS 34

CHAPTER 2
Part I A FEW EXOGENOUS FORCES AND THEIR IMPACT ON THE SOCIO-ECONOMIC LIFE OF THE GAROS 93
Part II DARENGRI : HISTORY AND HUMAN ECOLOGY 114

CHAPTER 3
IN SEARCH OF LIVELIHOOD :
Part I Divergence from Traditions 159
Part II Swidden to Settled Land-uses 177
Part III Occupational Diversifications 196
Part IV Other Occupational Miscellany 211
Part V Changing Profile of Livelihood 225

CHAPTER 4
EXCHANGE PANORAMA
Barter-Trade-Money-Market-Credit 244

CHAPTER 5
CHANGING RIGHTS AND VALUES
Mutual Privileges to Atomistic Rights and values 272

CHAPTER 6
SUMMARY AND OBSERVATIONS 302
Glossary Page 316
Bibliography 324

Map of Garo Hills
An Akhing-map showing amathe 46
A map of newly created akhing 47
Map of Tura 109
Map of Darengri 114

Traditional Accommodation Arrangements and
Ground plan of a Traditional House 43
Use of A'dok/A'dal/A'breng 86

Photograph plates : After page 343
Roaring Flew the Daren
A Garo belle with a welcome smile
Affection eternal
Inside view of a traditional house
Traditional hearth and home
A look out hut
Wangala, the post-harvest festival-dance
A bridge on the river Simsang
A little rest on way to market
They also usher
Christ comes to Garo Hills
Thinking of tomorrow!
Busy hours ahead!