ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is a pleasure for me to express my deepest obligation and gratitude to my teacher, Dr. B.K. Talukdar, Reader(Retired), Department of Education, Gauhati University for inspiring and guiding me in preparing this thesis.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not express my indebtedness to Dr. Q.C. Kar, Head of the Department of Education (Retd.), Gauhati University who has initiated me to the subject and inspired me to prepare it in the form of a thesis. His blessings have remained a source of constant inspiration.

Dr. Man Shing, Head, Department of Psychology, Gauhati University deserves my gratitude for his kind help, guidance and advice from time to time.

I must pay my gratitude to the Principal, Gauhati Medical College, The Civil Surgeons, Kamrup and Nalbari and the Heads of all the Civil Hospitals and Primary Health Centres for their kind permission to carry out my field investigation. I remain obliged to them for their co-operation.
I shall never forget the help and co-operation of the employees of the Gauhati Medical College wings of the ICMR (Indian Council of Medical Research), and the Doctors undergoing training in M.T.P. (Medical Termination of Pregnancy) at Gauhati Medical College and other Health Units in the district.

My sincere thanks go to Dr. W. Sarma, M.B.B.S.,M.D. Asstt. Professor of Social and Preventive Medicine (SPM) and to some of his fellow Doctors and students at the Gauhati Medical College for their help and co-operation during my field study. At times they accompanied me to rural areas in the District.

I remain obliged to Sri Dilip Sarma B.E. (Mech) and Sri Ram Deksa, Lecturer (Math), Praggyotish College, Guwahati for their help and guidance in matters of the statistical works included in this thesis.

I shall ever remember the help and co-operation of Sri S. Talukdar of the Ph.D. Branch, Gauhati University who always guided me in all matters of official formalities.

I thank Sri N.N. Sarma M.A.,M.Phil, Dip. E.T. Lecturer in English, Dadamm College who helped me in matters of language of the thesis besides encouraging me all through my endeavours in this work.
I am simply grateful to the UGC for the lump-sum financial grant for preparing this thesis.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge the help and cooperation of the Librarians and other staff member of the K.K. Handique Library, G.U., the District Library, Kamrup, the Pragjyotish College Library and the various libraries in Calcutta and Delhi. I must thank the Kamrup Anushandhan Samity, History and Antiquarian studies for their kind help and cooperation.

My father, Sri U.K. Sarma, Retd. Deputy Treasurer, Reserve Bank of India, Guwahati has been my constant source of inspiration. I humbly acknowledge his affectionate help and guidance.

The patients who visited the GMC and various other health centres deserve thanks for their co-operation and humility. They have provided the scope for case study appended in this thesis.

Mr. B. Roychoudhury of the Physics Department, G.U. has very kindly typewritten this thesis and I must thank him for his help.
Last but the least, I express my deep gratitude to my husband Dr. Gopal Chandra Sarmasu, M.D., B.S., M.B., Associate Professor, of the Gauhati Medical College, who has been inspiring me to prepare this thesis. He has been kind enough to familiarise me with many of the Medical Terms needed for this study. I remain obliged to him for his kindness.