ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In course of this academic venture I am indebted to many and I am privileged to be able to express my gratitude to them all. I express my profound sense of gratitude to my supervisor, Professor Niru Hazarika, under whose guidance and supervision this study was conducted. Her insightful comments have greatly benefited me in conducting the research.

I express my sincere gratitude to Prof. Sandhya Goswami and Dr. Alaka Sarma of the Department of Political Science, Gauhati University for their support and encouragement. I also extend my gratitude to all the members of the faculty of Political Science, Gauhati University for their co-operation and fellow-feeling during my tenure as Teacher Fellow in the Department.

Special mention has to be made of the co-operation and help extended to me by Dr. Archana Sarma, Director, of the Women Studies Research Center, Gauhati University and all the members of the WSRC, G.U. which helped me in collecting many materials for the study.

I express my gratitude to Prof. A. C. Talukdar for his helpful suggestions at the initial stages of my work. Prof. Susheela Kausik, whom I met for a short while at the University Guest House offered me some invaluable suggestions which greatly helped me in conducting the field work and for that I remain ever grateful to her.

I am thankful to Ms. Zabeen Ahmed, Librarian, Cotton College, who enabled me to have access to some of the books relevant for the present study. I am also thankful to the officers and staff of NIRD, SIRD, OKDISCD, the Gauhati University Library, Handique Girls’ College Library, and the Library of the Assam State Legislative Assembly for all their assistance.

I am thankful to the UGC for the fellowship which enabled me to complete the research work and to my college authorities for giving me lien to undertake the study.

I would like to thank all my colleagues in the Department of Political Science, Handique Girls’ College for their moral support.

I express my gratitude to my brothers-in-law, Sanatan Deka, and Prasanta Barkakati who have helped me gain access to the respondents. Special mention has to be made of the cooperation extended to me by the respondents and officials which made this study possible. I wish to place on record my gratitude to them.

I owe a debt of gratitude to Udayan Hazarika and Upala Barua for their invaluable help in enabling me to complete this work.

I convey my gratefulness to my parents and parents-in-law for their inspiration and motivation and to the members of my family of birth and my family of marriage for their constant encouragement and goading to complete the work.

To my husband, Amitabh Choudhury, and children, Pratyasha and Pratyush, I owe a special debt of gratitude for their understanding and unwavering support during the entire period of my work.
