CONTENTS

CHAPTER I : DEVELOPMENT OF FOREST BASED INDUSTRIES 1 - 71

Recreational values of forestry - Need for R & D of forest Products - Need for conservation of forests and Afforestation Programmes - Forest produce - Existing state of wood utilisation - Minor Forest Produce and Major Forest Produce - Development of Forests under Five Year Plans - Regional distribution of forest resources with specially reference to Andhra Pradesh.

CHAPTER II : AIM AND METHODOLOGY 72 - 80

The present study - objectives of the study - Importance of the study - Methodology of Research - Survey of Literature.

CHAPTER III : KURNOOL DISTRICT - HISTORICAL BACKGROUND 81 - 114

CHAPTER IV : SUSTAINABLE GROWTH OF FOREST BASED INDUSTRIES - AN ANALYSIS

PART - A

Tribal population, habitat and economy - Forest Products: Major forest prone - Minor Forest Produce - Role of Girijan Co-operative Corporation - Functional objectives.

PART - B

Location and type of units - Age of units - Investment range in the units - Total turnover of the selected units - Income range - Source of Financial Assistance - Source of raw material - Satisfaction with the bank finance - Satisfaction with the timely supply of raw material - Satisfaction with the cost of raw material - Location of market - Environmental concern - Steps suggested for the preservation the forest.

Profile of tribal respondent in the study: Income range - Number of dependents - Literacy level - Reasons for dissatisfaction with price realisation - Corporation (G.C.C) loan facility - Livelihood alternatives in the absence of forest produce.

CHAPTER V : FINDING AND CONCLUSIONS

Social forestry programmes - Development of waste land - Augmentation of forest research - Conduct of forest survey in the area - Satisfying the fuel wood requirements - Linkage of social forestry with tribal welfare - Modern management techniques - Making people more participative - More participation in minor forest produce development programmes - Forest Conservation Policy: A discouraging feature - Depletion of forest - Wealth vis-a-vis far away resource availability - Smuggling of woods - Perspective of the problem - Protection of the woods from pests, fires, etc. - Development of herbal/medicinal plantation - provision of more financial assistance - promotion of more co-operative - Training programme - Development of infrastructural facilities - Better tools and equipment - Power problem -
Rationalisation of licencing policies - Marketing problems - Reduction of excise duty and sales tax - Proper assessment of the financial requirements - Exploitation of tourism potentiality - Creating more environmental awareness.

QUESTIONNAIRE  i - iv

BIBLIOGRAPHY   v - ix