Acknowledgements

The present thesis is an outcome of my research on environmental degradation due to mining industry in Tumkur District. An attempt has been made here to examine the activities, attitude and perception of a sample of population drawn from five villages located around illegal mining activities in Chikkanayakanahalli, Gubbi taluk, Tumkur district-Karnataka state. The research has been undertaken with a view to assessing the impact of mining industries on the socio-economic conditions and the sources of livelihood of the village people residing in the surrounding villages of mining areas. As subject matter of sociological research there is an acute paucity of dependable data and knowledge regarding mining activities and their impact on the life, living and working conditions of people in rural Karnataka. This has been supplemented by an attempt to evaluate the role of local government and NGO in checking, if any damage to environment as a result of large-scale both legal and illegal mining activities.

Large number of persons have helped me in ways more than one in my endeavor to complete my PhD work. I like to convey my heartfelt gratitude and respect to my teacher and guide Dr. Y. Narayana Chetty, Professor, Department of Sociology, Bangalore University, Bangalore-560056. The thesis would not have been possible but for is constant support and valuable guidance extended to me all the time.

I also like to thank Dr. B.C. Mylarappa, Professor and Chairperson, Department of Sociology, Bangalore University, Bangalore-560056, for his co-operation and good wishes.

I would like to convey my gratitude and regards to Dr. N. Prabhu Dev, Vice-Chancellor, Bangalore University, Bangalore-560056, for giving me encouragement and intellectual support all through my research work.
I am grateful to my revered teaching staff of Department of Sociology, Dr. G. Shivaramakrishnan, Dr. Jogan Shankar, Dr. C. Somashekhkar, Dr. R. Rajesh, Dr. Samata B. Deshmane, Dr. Sudha khokate office staff Mr. Venkatappa and Mr. Mahesh.

I would like to thank my friends and well wishers who have helped me directly or indirectly during the course of my research.mention may be made of Smt. Gayathri Y.N. Chetty, Mr. Skandhan, Mr. Shivanand and Mrs. Rachana and Baby Shereshta and Stuthi.

I also like to take this opportunity to place on record the constant and unflinching support I received from advisers, friends, well wishers, co-research scholars, Sri. A. Venu, Sri. K.S. Jagadesh, Sri. T. Gangadhariaiah, Sri. M. Basavarajaiiah, Sri. Prasanna, Sri. G. Thippeswamy, Sri. Vijay Kumar, Sri. Nataraj and my family members Smt.G.P. Varalakshmi, my son Chandan and my daughter Greeshma.

Place: Bangalore
Date:

(A.R.MAHESHA)
Research scholar,
Department of sociology,
Jnanabharathi Campus,
Bangalore University,
Bangalore-560056.