ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author wishes to put on record his sincere thanks to Dr. M.N. Rao, Professor, Geological Sciences, Gauhati University, for suggesting the research problem and giving valuable guidance throughout the course of this work.

The author is thankful to the Principal, Regional Engineering College, Silchar, for extending necessary issue and for giving permission for the work.

The author had to bear all the financial burden for the work since no financial assistance could be obtained from any source. This caused some delay in the completion of the work.

Grateful thanks are due to the Head, Department of Geological Sciences, Gauhati University, for providing laboratory facilities. The author is grateful to Dr. I.M. Das, Head, University Science Instrumentation Centre, Gauhati University, for offering laboratory facilities for X-ray work and to Dr. D.T. Khathing, Head, Regional Sophisticated Instrumentation Centre, Shillong, for providing trace element analysis data on A.A.S. (Atomic Absorption Spectrophotometer).

The author is thankful to the late Dr. A. Hem Choudhury, to Dr. H. Das Gupta, and specially to Dr.
Sil, teachers in the Chemistry Department, Regional Engineering College, Silchar, for extending help in several ways for chemical analysis and for general encouragement.

Special thanks are due to Smt. Hamata Das, the author's wife, who managed the family responsibilities and took pain for helping in all possible ways, including some preliminary typing, for the completion of the work.

Help obtained from Dr. K.P. Parma, Lecturer, Aryavidyapith College, Guwahati (in the form of various suggestions), Sri J. Saikia (for X-ray diffraction data), Sri K. Kalita (for the final typing), Sri P. Padhi and Sri P. Saikia and Sri C. Saikia of Silchar, Sri Gunaram of Guwahati University, Sri P. Das, Sri P. Deb, Md. H. Laskar, Sri P. Choudhury, Sri P.
