ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost I am deeply indebted to my guide Dr.V.Reddappa Reddy, Associate Professor, Department of Rural Development who supervised this work painstakingly. I am grateful to him for his scholarly advice and guidance without which my endeavour would have been an unfulfilled dream.

My special thanks are due to my teacher, Professor P.Mularidharudu, Chairman Board of Studies, Department of Rural Development, Dr. G.Sreedhar, Head, Department of Rural Development, Dr. K.Bhaskar and Dr.C.Sudhakar, Associate Professors and Dr.K.Govindappa, Dr.R.Sugunakumari, Dr.D.Chenna Reddy and Sri. M.Muninarayanappa, Assistant Professors, Department of Rural Development.

I thank Prof. Reddy Venkata Raju, Chairman, Board of Studies, Department of Botany for his constant inspiration, which hastened my work.

It is my bounden duty to express my heartfelt thanks my family members, especially my wife Madhavi, who encouraged me and gave strong support and my brothers-in-law Rajasekhar Reddy, Madhusudhan Reddy and Vijaya Bhaskar Reddy, for their support and determination to ensure me the most appropriate work atmosphere.
I am indebted to the following institutions and departments for their co-operation in permitting me to have access to the relevant records in their procession.

- National Institute of Rural Development (NIRD), Hyderabad;
- Administrative Staff College of India (ASCI), Hyderabad;
- Centre for Economics and Social Studies, Hyderabad;
- Osmania University, Hyderabad; and
- Chief Planning Office, Anantapur.

I also thank the 180 sample respondents who cooperated during the conduct of time consuming schedule canvassing.

Last but not the least, P.Lokanna took pains in doing a neat typing. My special thanks are due to him.
