Acknowledgements

This thesis would not have been possible without the active support of some persons. They guided me and advised me at various point of time during my thesis work.

First of all I would like to thank my two supervisors, Dr Sambhunath Biswas, Professor, Machine Intelligence Unit, Indian Statistical Institute and Dr Rabindranath Bera, Professor and Head, Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering, Sikkim Manipal Institute of Technology, for their guidance during this PhD work. The discussions with them were very informative and their advice throughout the entire duration of the thesis was invaluable. I feel very much lucky to find a chance to work with them.

I also wish to thank all faculty and staff members of the Departments of Computer Science and Engineering and Computer Applications at Sikkim Manipal Institute of Technology for their constant support. My work would not have been possible without their help.
