Acknowledgements

Towards the submission of this dissertation, I would seize the opportunity to acknowledge my gratitude towards all those who extended their kind help and support in fulfilling this endeavor.

First and foremost, I bow in reverence of Almighty God, for providing enough patience, zeal and strength that enabled me to complete this dissertation successfully.

I deem it a privilege to record my profound sense of gratitude to Dr. Suvarna Bhoir, Scientific Officer, C.B. Patel Research Centre, Mumbai – 56, India, who has ably supervised me during my research work. Her moralistic support and scientific guidance, her constant care, endless encouragements and positive criticism have been the major driving force for achieving my goal of the dissertation work.

I gratefully acknowledge Dr. Indravadan Bhoir and Dr. Sasikumar Menon and Dr. Ashok Bhagwat. By the virtue of their invaluable scholastic suggestions and constructive criticism, I have been able to look at things in a better way. Their astute guidance and sacrifice of personal hours for me has culminated in the form of this Herculean task. Their enthusiasm for research and great interest in my work has been most encouraging.

Furthermore, my warmest thanks to Dr. Ashish Mungantiwar from Macleods Pharmaceuticals Limited, Mumbai, India, for his kind assistance with LC-MS/MS experiments and giving the opportunity to work with one of his dynamic teams.

It was a pleasure to work in the warm atmosphere created by Mr. Namdev Pawar, Mr. Sachin Shinde, Mrs. Suman Yadav, Ms. Shweta Salunkhe and Ms. Supriya Mhamunkar, who among others guided me during my first step in the bioanalytical studies.

My sincere thanks and appreciation to Sudhir kaka, Bhairu kaka and Shivaji kaka for their skillful technical assistance.
I thank all my colleagues and friends at School of Science, NMIMS, for showing interest in my work and for countless nonscientific discussions over meal breaks; they really kept my spirits up.

My heartfelt thanks go to my parents for their endless care and support. Warm thanks also to my siblings Pankaj & Pallavi, my non-NMIMS friends Yogita & Mayur. You have always provided me with something else to think about and reminded me of the truly important things in life.

I am also sincerely grateful to my new family, especially Aai – Baba, for their patience and support. You have given me another family to rely on. Lastly, my deepest gratitude is owed to my dearest Yogesh for unconditional love and for just being there.
