Acknowledgements

All throughout my long expedition into the subject of indigenous ornamental fish, the presence of the Holy Spirit guided me to innovative ideas and acquainted me with many inspirational personalities.

I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my supervising teacher, Dr. N.D. Inasu, who most inspired me by first introducing me to the subject of Ichthyology and then guided me to this exciting thesis, motivating me throughout the tenure with constructive comments and evaluation. His consistent guidance and encouragement was the greatest power in the execution of my research work.

I am grateful to Rev. Fr. Dr. Johnson X. Palakappillil, Principal, Sacred Heart College, Thevara, Kochi and Dr. Samson Davis, Professor and Head, Postgraduate and Research Department of Zoology, for providing necessary facilitates to carry out my work. Without the unrestricted assistance rendered to me by the staff members of Sacred Heart College, Thevara, Cochin, this study would not have been realised.

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to the Manager, CMC Educational Society, Kolazhy, Thrissur and Dr. Sr. Rani George, former Principal and Dr Sr. Chryslin, Principal St. Mary’s College, Thrissur for giving legal sanction for carrying out my research under FIP deputation scheme of UGC.

I place on record my sincere thanks to Dr. Tessy J. Mandy former HOD of Department of Zoology, Vimala college, Thrissur, Dr. Honey Sebastian, Assistant Professor, Vimala college, Thrissur, Swapana Johny, Assistant Professor, Depthi, Lecturer, Little Flower college, Guruvayoor. Dr. Rekha K. Assistant Professor Department of Botany, St. Mary’s college, Thrissur, Dr. C.P Shaji, Principal investigator KSBB, Mr. Moncey Vincent, Research Scholar, Christ College, Irinjalakuda for their help and support extended to me and their valuable suggestions at the time of manuscript preparation.
I also wish to thank Dr. Sunanada and Dr. Joyce, for their loving concern and help in statistical analysis of the data. In fact all these persons were my backbone in the research, without whose help I could not have completed my work successfully.

I owe my sincere thanks to the librarians at C.M.F.R.I. Kochi, MPEDA Kochi, K.F.R.I. Thrissur and Cochin University of Science and Technology for giving consent to do the reference work in the esteemed institution. I am obliged for the financial help received from UGC, New Delhi for continuing my research under FIP Scheme. I am earnestly thankful to my colleagues in the Department of Zoology and Botany, St. Mary’s College, Thrissur for their constant encouragement and help.

I wish to thank Dr. Lata, Director, River Fish Monitoring Programme, Mrs. Rukmani, Officer, Land development Department, Thrissur and Mr. Unnikrishnan, Chairman fishery cooperative society, Vazhani, for providing valuable insight into the subject. My gratitude to all my teachers of Little Flower College, Guruvayoor and Christ College, Irinjalakuda for encouraging me and driving me to this endeavour.

I place on record my sincere gratitude to Mr. Aneesh, Mr. Kannan, Mr. Radhakrishnan, Mr. Jayan, Mr. Joju, Mr. Jose, Mr. Linto, Mr. Kochudevasy, Subita and Shiny for the assistance provided in fish collection. I am ever indebted to my beloved parents, sisters and brothers who have bestowed upon their blessings.

All the concern shown and all the support rendered can never be shortened to a word of gratitude still I thank my loving husband David without whose infinite interventions, the work would not have been realized.

Above all, I thank the Lord Almighty, the presence of his Holy spirit and His infinite blessings showered on me for the successful completion of the work.
