A piece of work is always an accomplishment of collective team work, often finding its conception in the dreams of one person and being brought into existence by another.

I thank Dr. Manab Chakraborty for sharing his expertise in making this work a success. He has helped in the overall workflow and spurred me into action. As a guide he has shown me the direction of the course of this work.

My mentor, Shri C. Patnaik, for his consistent guidance throughout the course of the work needs special mention. He was always the pillar which provided support during the difficult times. His constant perseverance and encouragement was always the vital force goading me on the learning curve. At times he was a strict task master and at times he would counsel like a friend. Many a discussion with him would often lead to innovative result bearing ideas yet opening doors to many more avenues requiring to be explored. He would always be etched in my memory as the guiding star in my endeavours to navigate to the destination.

Family and friends, though working behind the scenes, play equally important roles in the success of a person. Had it not been for the dream of my parents, I would not have accomplished this task. Hence, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to them for their aura of goodness and faith in me. I feel fortunate to have my sister Priyanka and my aunt Kamini who always egged me on to achieve my goals. Blessings of my grandmother were with me all throughout.

As the saying goes, all work and no play made Jack a dull boy. My friends added zing and sparkle to the otherwise serious task. Life was never dull at Vikramnagar colony, where we all shared our sorrows, joys, problems and most of all the golden days of our lives. The fun and frolic we enjoyed would sing paeans of nostalgia as we traverse down memory lanes. Inderpreet, Swapnil, Prabhjot, Shashikant, Durgesh, Prashant and many more, who were my support system in personal as well as professional life, would be belittled if I simply thank them. No words can express my heartfelt feelings for them. It is also my good fortune to have Avani, Neha, Disha, Deeba and Santosh who kept faith in me and my endeavours.
I would fail in my duty if I do not acknowledge the support I received from the FASAL project with respect to data and ground truth campaigns. I thank Dr. S. Panigrahy and Dr. J. S. Parihar for their support.

My organisation, Space Applications Centre, (ISRO) Ahmedabad has granted me my Research Fellowship and nursed me during the period for which I am indebted.

Mr. Jorge Arevalo, from Spain, who is one of the architects of PostGIS needs a special mention for patiently going through my queries and promptly addressing them to solve my initial teething problems.

This work has been greatly improved by my Research Progress Committee members, Dr. A. K Singh and Dr. R. D. Shah. I thank them for their constructive suggestions. I would also sincerely thank all the concerned personnel at Nirma University like Dr. A. S. Patel, Dr. S. K. Dalai, Dr. Manjunath Ghate and Ms. Prashya for their support.
