Bibliography

Annual Reports of DPEP 1998-2002, District Primary Education Programme, Guwahati, Assam. pp.10-21

Assam at a glance, 2001 Published by Directorate of Census Operations, Assam.

Athparia, R.P. (2004), Role of Education for Economic Development, A Case Study of the Karbis, Assam,

Borah. J., (2002). A Comparative Study on Achievement Level of Students of Different Communities using same tools for all and to identify the major causes of difference in Achievement, irrespective of Different Communities, A DPEP Project Report.

Educational Management And Information Systems’ (EMIS) data, Sarva Siksha Abhiyan, Assam, Guwahat and EMIS data from District Mission Co ordinators of Morigaon, Sonitpur, Barpeta and Kokrajhar districts.

Elementary Education in India: Progress towards UEE: DISE Flash Statistics; 2006-2007

214

Grover, S; Singh, N.H; Stromquist, N; April 2002, The Quality of Primary Education: A Case Study of Madurai and Villupuram Districts in Tamil Nadu, India, p.4.

Gupta, M. (2000). Women and Educational Development; Swarup & Sons; New Delhi

Handa,S., 1995, ‘ Raising Primary School Enrolment in Development Countries: The Relative Importance of Supply and Demand, FCND Discussion Paper No.76; Washington D.C.(USA)

Sonia Bhalotra and Bernarda Zamora(2006).: Primary Education in India, Research Paper No. 2006/80, UNO-WIDER.
Statistical Hand Book of Assam 2011, Published by Directorate of Economics and Statistics, Govt. of Assam.

World Bank (2004), Attaining the Millenium Development Goals in India: Role of Public Policy and Service Delivery: Human Development Unit, South Asia Region, June.
