Study of Young Society Reflected in Selected Novels of Vikram Seth, Upamanyu Chatterjee and Pankaj Mishra

I. Primary Sources:

II. Secondary Sources:

i. Books:

Study of Young Society Reflected in Selected Novels of Vikram Seth, Upamanyu Chatterjee and Pankaj Mishra

ii. Articles in Books, Journals and Newspapers:

Lal, Malashri. “This Text which is Not one: Thoughts on Contemporary Indian Writing in English”, Post-Independent voices in South Asian Writings. Ed. by Malashri Lal, Alamgir Hashmi and Victor J. Kennedy.

Mahapatra, H.S. “Vikram Seth’s A Suitable Boy and Realism.” New Quest, September-October, 1993.

Narayan, Leela Lakshmi – see at ref. of book – mala Pandurang’s (pg 185)

Nayar, M. “At Long Lost, A Date with Seth Offer a Seven- Year Wait.” The Hindu, 30th September, 2005.

Study of Young Society Reflected in Selected Novels of Vikram Seth, Upamanyu Chatterjee and Pankaj Mishra

Study of Young Society Reflected in Selected Novels of Vikram Seth, Upamany Chatterjee and Pankaj Mishra

iii. Reviews and Interviews:

248

iv. Websites:

http://dx.doi.org/10.1080/17449859708589274

www_worldcat_org/issn/0315-4149.

www_iblict_com/author611.html.

www_schweitzwe_org/english/aseind.html.

www_time_com/time/2005/100books/the_complete-list.html.