ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I deem it as privilege to work under the guidance of Dr. Jacob S. Jaya Raj, Department of Physical Anthropology and Prehistoric Archaeology, S.V. University. He has been a constant inspiration for me throughout the course of investigation. It gives me great pleasure to express my heartfelt gratitude and indebtedness to my revered "Guruji" for his expert, inestimable and affectionate guidance throughout this work.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Prof. V.N. Misra, Deccan College, Poona University, Prof. M.L.K. Murty, University of Hyderabad, Prof. B.M. Das, Gauhati University and to Dr. P. Vijaya Prakash, Andhra University for their useful discussions.

I am thankful to Dr. P. Chengal Reddy, now the Head of the Department of Physical Anthropology and Prehistoric Archaeology for providing required facilities required in my research and to all my teachers for their kind gesture and help.

I am equally thankful to Dr. B. Suryanarayana Rao, Head, Department of Botany and Chief Investigator of B.S.I. Scheme, Venkatagiri and his scholars, and to the staff and scholars of Department of Botany, S.V. University for the help rendered in the identification of plant material.

My sincere thanks are due to my cousin Mr. M. Ram Mohan for his painstaking help and splendid interest in the field work.
I wish to express my gratitude and appreciation to the Forest Departments of Venkatagiri and Nellore; Agricultural Research Centre, Nellore and to the Revenue Department. I am thankful to the National Remote Sensing Agency, Hyderabad and Dr. N. Nagabhushanam, Department of Geography, S.V. University for assisting me in studying toposheets.

I wish to express sincere thanks to my friends Messers. G. Bulliah, K. Kodhandaram Reddy, S. Moses, K. subrahmanyam, G. Srinivasa Rao, S. Hemanth Kumar, K. Madhusudhana Rao, C. Dhinakara Raju, P. Venkata Ramana, Miss. C. Uma Rani, Miss. A. Nirmala and Dr. A. Chandra Sekhar for their valuable advices, co-operation and help. I express my special thanks to Miss. U.F. Vijaya Vani, who exhorted at the time of data analysis and sketchings.

My due apologies go to informants and tribals, who are the souls of my work. I express my innumerable thanks to Mrs. S. Bharathi, who inspired me to do Archaeology specialization and Miss M. Sailaja, invisible inspiration.

With profound regard, I wish to acknowledge my indebtedness to the various learned scholars, authors and publications of the Government from whose studies I have learnt so much and whose ideas and valuable contributions to this subject have helped me a lot in the preparation of this thesis.

Many others (esteemed elders, well-wishers and friends), who remain unmentioned, helped me at various stages of the study, and its subsequent culmination in the form of this thesis.
I take this opportunity towards my great sense of honour, love and gratitude towards my parents and other family members for their encouragement and moral support throughout my academic career. My grateful thanks are due to my uncle Mr. Ch. Lakshminarayana Rao and cousin Miss. Ch. Swarna Latha for their enthusiasm and constructive suggestions when I was finalising this thesis.

I also thank Mr. J. Chandra Sekhar, M.Sc., (Zoology) and Mr. M. Nagaraju for their timely courtesy in typing the thesis to the best of its quality and eligancy.

Tirupati,
