ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research work would not have been possible without the support of faculty, staff and friends at Jaypee Institute of Information Technology, Noida, and the support and love of my family and friends.

First, I would like to thank my supervisors, Dr. Lokendra Kumar and Prof. Bani Singh for their time, patience, support and constant encouragement. With great patience and their insight, they have mentored me in developing my research abilities, critical thinking, and research writing skills. I must say that I am extremely fortunate to have such personalities as my mentors and under their excellent mentoring skills, I developed great insight in a lot of topics for which I shall always be grateful to them. Indeed, to a great extent this achievement was possible due to my mentors inspiring suggestions, encouragement, active participation in constructing right models and supervision at every stage of the work.

I would like to thank Dr. S. P. Purohit (PMSE), Dr. B. P. Chamola and Dr. Sanjeev Sharma - members of DPMC - for their valuable suggestions and feedback at every stage and evaluation during my presentations. Their talent and subject acumen have ensured that the feedback given by them is to the point and added enormous value to my research. Their feedback and suggestions have always been in an encouraging tone which inspired me to work hard and ensured quality research work.

I would like to thank Prof. Alka Tripathi (HOD), Prof. G. S. Srivastava, Prof. Amrish Kumar Aggarwal, and other faculty members of the Department of Mathematics, for their valuable insights and helpful tips during the work. Their comments helped me to view the research topic from different viewpoints which helped to ensure that no particular viewpoint is left out in my research and thesis. A special thanks to Dr. Puneet Rana, who helped me a lot by knowledgeable discussion on the topic and providing me necessary advice from time to time.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and profound thanks to Prof. Osman Anwar Bég, Director-Gort Engovation Research, Bradford, England, UK, who, while being far away took out valuable time and provided necessary advice, feedback, support and encouragement as and when required through email.

I also take this opportunity to thank Prof. S. C. Saxena, Vice Chancellor, Prof. Padam Kumar, Dean (R, I&D), Prof. Krishna Gopal, Dean (A&R) and Sh. Raju Sangal, Registrar for their constant support and infrastructural facilities provided for my research work at

I would also like to thank all my friends at JIIT who contributed directly or indirectly towards my research work in various ways. I am grateful to Dr. Rajkumar Verma, Assistant Professor, HMR Institute of Technology and Management, for his advice, help and constant moral support provided whenever needed.

Finally and most importantly, I would like to thank my family members. I wholeheartedly express my gratitude and appreciation to my husband, Mohan Rao as this would not have been possible for me without his continuous support and love. He motivated me to embark on my Ph.D. journey. He gave me moral support when the journey seemed difficult. He took care of our children enabling me to study without interruptions and continuously motivated me during the course of this research work. I also thank my parents for their encouragement and moral support given throughout my work. I thank my brother G. Ramesh for his cooperation and timely help and support provided during my research work. My deepest sense of indebtedness goes to my mother-in-law B. Lalitha Rao for her constant love and encouragement and for treating me as her own daughter. Words cannot express my appreciation and love for my children, Amrit Rao and Anushri Rao, who are the pride and joy of my life. They have been very patient and understanding throughout and have inspired me with their love and care. In spite of being very young, they adjusted very well and remained cheerful during my stay in Noida – away from my residence in Mumbai.

This work could not have been completed if God has not provided me enough patience and power during this period. I shall be highly grateful to the Almighty.
