ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is with great pleasure that I record my indebtedness to Dr. S. Srinivasan, Lecturer in Chemistry, Kanchi Mamunivar Centre for Post-graduate Studies, Pondicherry for having suggested the problem under study and supervising its investigation. I am grateful to Dr. R. Sivaramakrishnan, Lecturer in Chemistry, Tagore Arts College, Pondicherry, for many valuable suggestions and useful discussions. Mrs. Lakshmi Srinivasan, Lecturer in Mathematics, Tagore Arts College, went through the entire manuscript and critically reviewed the statistical concepts presented therein.

Mrs. Alice de Jonge and Dr. Ian Manning of Melbourne were kind enough to send me copies of a number of classical papers in statistics not readily available in Indian libraries. Dr. R. Gopalan, Head of the Department of Chemistry, Madras Christian College, rendered many an assistance. In the collection of the reference materials Mr. R. Veeraraghavan, my co-researcher and Lecturer in Chemistry at Bharathidasan Government College for Women, Pondicherry, and my former students, Mr. Prabakaran, Mr. Balamurugan and Ms. Geetha, who are now research scholars elsewhere, have been helpful.

My colleagues in the Department of Chemistry at Kanchi Mamunivar Centre for Post-graduate Studies, Pondicherry, have been constantly of assistance in my efforts, while my friends in the Departments of Computer Science both at Kanchi Mamunivar Centre for Post-graduate Studies, Pondicherry and Tagore Arts College, Pondicherry, especially Mr S. Sundar Rajan, have been of much help in computer matters.
I am grateful to Dr. R. Sabesan, Professor Emeritus of Physics, Annamalai University, Chidambaram, and my own Supervisor, Dr S. Srinivasan for permitting me to use some of the experimental data from the dissertations of candidates guided by them, for verification of the concepts formulated in this work.

Dr. M. Purushothaman, former Director and Dr. Uma, present Directress of the Kanchi Mamunivar Centre for Post-graduate Studies, Pondicherry, as well as Prof. V. Kumaraswamy, Head of the Department of Chemistry at the Kanchi Mamunivar Centre for Post-graduate Studies, Pondicherry, have been encouraging me constantly.

Mr.V.Mahalingam, Lecturer in English KMCPCS, Pondicherry kindly undertook the task of typing the manuscript, while the tables of results were typed by Mr. M. Ganesh of Qualité Offset, Pondicherry.

I am grateful to the Directorate of Education, Government of Pondicherry, for granting me permission to undertake the research work and to Pondicherry University for registering me as a part-time research candidate.

Lastly, the members of my family have been a constant source of strength in my endeavour. Besides the relatives, colleagues and friends, there have been many others whom I have not specifically named here and who have been of great help at various stages of my undertaking and made its completion possible.
