Fulfilment of an ambition is the most pleasant event in one's life. The completion of this Research Thesis is the event, I have long waited for. While I am thrilled to complete the Herculean task of a Research Work and the thesis thereof, I have deep sense of appreciation and gratitude to those, who have played an indispensable role for the fulfillment of my ambition.

The construction and standardisation of skill measurement in Reading Comprehension and Study of Reading Comprehension in context of Psycho-Socio Correlates was the subject, I preferred, from a couple of subjects suggested by Dr.I.A.Vora, my Reverend teacher and guide. Dr.Vora has a Lion's share in my gratitude as his keen interest, discipline and perfectionism in work, has trained me and taught me a lot at all levels of the Research Work. Above all, his kindness and accommodative approach has made him a 'Real Guide'. I pay my 'Respects' to him.

I am fortunate having a 'Guru', who has taken keen interest in my progress, from the time of my entry, into teaching and who has been like my father and advisor, in Principal H.J.Pandit. Shri Pandit Saheb has all the honour of this thesis and I am indebted to him for showing me a guide beyond my deserve and taking keen interest in my progress.

Vivekanand College of Education, Ahmedabad, is my 'Almamater'. I owe my teaching career to it. Principal H.K.Vyas, the Management of the Institution and my colleagues have been so co-operative that without their support, this work could not be fulfilled.

I am indebted to M.B.Patel College of Education and staff, Sardar Patel University, Vallabhbh Vidyanagar.

The School Managements, Principals, teachers and the Pupils of IXth Standard, who participated, helped and provided the real data by their active participation, deserve great honour and appreciation. I am thankful to all of them.

My thanks are due to all those, who helped me actively in data collection and all my friends and relatives, who helped me or inspired and encouraged me during my studies.

The real foundation stones of my achievement are my son Chi. Apoorva (U.S.A.) and my husband Dr.Ashvin Desai, who have inspired, accommodated and helped in my work and tolerated inconveniences, for which I have no words to express my gratitude.

I am proud and grateful to my parents, who have inherited and imbibed a culture and zeal in me for achievement of goal.
