ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, I take this opportunity to thank the Director General of Police, Tamil Nadu for granting permission for me to pursue my Ph.D as a Part Time candidate when I was the Superintendent of Police, Pudukottai. I also thank other Senior Police Officers for supporting me in my academic achievement throughout my research period.

The Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor Prof. Dr. P. Vanangamudi, a born teacher, an expert academician and able administrator, who has three long decades of experience in the history of legal education in Tamil Nadu and a mentor to a large number of downtrodden youngsters, rightly guided me in all spheres of my research throughout the period. This work could not been completed by this time, but for his timely interventions irrespective of his breathless schedules. I express my sincere gratitude to him from my bottom of the heart. I thank the Registrar, the Director, Research and Publication Prof Dr. A. Raghunadha Reddy and all other authorities of the University for their huge support.

I owe a lot to my Supervisor of this research, Dr. V. Balaji, Associate Professor, Dept. of International Law, who has immediately accepted to supervise my research. Without his able and continuous guidance, this work would not have reached this stage. Prof Dr. N. Manimegalai, the Director and Head, Department of Women’s Studies, Bharathidasan University, Trichirapalli has contributed much to this research by way of her discussions and intellectual sharing on this topic, which is related to the women. I express my sincere thanks to her.
Though it is my individual academic work, in which I dedicatedly involved myself in spite of my regular policing, it is ably and consistently assisted by a team with a sense of commitment. That team includes Dr. K. S. Sarwani, Associate Professor, Dept. of Inter-disciplinary Studies, School of Excellence in Law, Dr. R. Srinivasan, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Constitutional Law Dr. S. K. Asok Kumar, Deputy Librarian, the Tamil Nadu Dr. Ambedkar Law University, Thiru. P. Kamaraj, Thiru. V. Ramachandran, Thiru. V. Rajesh, Thiru. G. Sakthivel and Thiru. S. Karthikeyan to mention a few. Dr. K. S. Sarwani, meticulously scanned the proof, Dr. R. Srinivasan has contributed on the discussions related to legal tenets, Dr. S. K. Asok Kumar, ably supported in the required research materials, Thiru. P. Kamaraj and Thiru. V. Ramachandran lend their helping hands in the statistical analysis as a classmate and as a senior to me respectively in college studies and Thiru. V. Rajesh, Thiru. G. Sakthivel and Thiru. S. Karthikeyan handled the data and made the pages. Many scholars of this reputed University are also projected their views on this new field of research in Law through their intellectual sharing. Likewise many of my subordinates devoted much of their time in supporting by all means. I thank all of them for their dedication and their support.

It is my family members, who encouraged me continuously to complete my research, took pains on behalf of me and suffered a lot. My beloved better half, Thirumathai E. Vijayalakshmi, from the day one of our relationship, taking all risks in carrying out the family related affairs, making me free to think on my academic advancement and my career perspectives. She is the psychological support behind me as many a time I get dejected on my advancements. My daughter, Selvi M. Balapragatha, a class tenth student with leadership qualities, wants to see me an academician with a doctoral degree as early as possible. Whenever I read some books, she used to check, whether it is on my research topic. If not, she used to advise me to be on focus and not to have any diversions. My son, Selvan. M. Balaswetharanyan, a class eighth student and a musician with skills, is always taking care and think of health and advancements. I am greatly indebted to them throughout my life.

I profoundly thank all those who assisted me in completing this research work.
