ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It would have been very difficult to complete this study without the cooperation and assistance of a number of individuals and institutions. I take this opportunity to express my sense of gratitude to them. The study would not have seen the light of the day without the support, opportunity and environment provided by the Business Studies Department in all respect since the beginning of my study.

I owe the greatest debt of gratitude to Prof. (Dr.) M.K. Patel whose thought provoking, able and constructive suggestions and stimulating guidance helped me at all stages of this research work.

I am deeply grateful to all who have helped me directly or indirectly to complete this study.
