ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I thank god profusely for blessing me with a great teacher and an ideal research supervisor Dr. P.Hari Padma Rani, Professor, Head of the Department of English, Sri Padmavathi Mahila University, Tirupati, who has constantly inspired and supported me to complete my research. Her advice, unparalleled concern, insightful criticism and patient encouragement aided the writing of this thesis in innumerable ways.

I am very grateful to Dr.Kenlackman, Canada, one of the advocates of the lexical approach, for promptly responding to my mails and for dispelling the doubts I had while writing the thesis.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to:

My maternal uncle and aunt whom I fondly call Nannagaru and Bujjamma who embraced our family when it went bankrupt and who have always stood by us.

My mother who always taught me to be honest and humble to rise in life. Her constant encouragement and steadfast support made me accomplish this herculean task. I am really proud of her.

My maternal uncle chanti mamayya and my cousin Kusumakka for helping us get through the most difficult times.

My maternal grandma and grandpa for the unstinting support and generosity extended to my family.

My brother Suneel and my sister-in-law Praveena for making me know the value of money and for providing me with a laptop to complete my research.
My Cousins Atluri Mamata and Veenu for taking all the pains to send me the books I needed from the U.K.

My niece Dhanya for talking to me and bringing relief in hours of despair.

My paternal uncle Sri Mandava Janaki Ramayya, Chariman, Vijaya Dairy, for encouraging me to go to Tirupati for my research.

Late Prof. M.V. Rama Sarma, Ex-Vice Chancellor of Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati for his valuable advice and interesting conversations.

My well-wisher Sri. Karkala Gangadhara Rao, Manager, Siddhartha Women’s College, Vijayawada, for supporting my family emotionally.

Sri. Nageswara Rao Valluripalli, Chariman, Gudlavalleru Engineering College and Sri Satyanarayana Valluripalli, Secretary, Gudlavalleru Engineering College for their concern and support throughout.

Sri. Nageswara Reddy Principal, Gudlavalleru for permitting me go on leave and for adjusting my classwork while I was away from the college.

Sri Potluri Krishna Rao garu, Gudlavalleru Engineering College, for his fatherly guidance and interesting discussions.

The Librarian EFLU Hyderabad for allowing me access to the books in the Library.

Mrs. Padma Reddy, Associate Professor, Yogi Vemana University, Cuddapah for her valuable advice and friendship throughout.
Dr. Korrapati Vijaya Lakshmi, Assistant Librarian, Padmavathi University, for her warm hospitality during visits to Tirupathi.

My best friend Mr. Rayapati Kishore for always enquiring about my health and for reminding me of the medicines I should take.

All my friends and colleagues for extending their help in completing this research work.
