Acknowledgement

The endless thanks goes to Lord Almighty for all the blessings they have showered onto me, that enable me to write this last note in my research work. During the period of my research, as in the rest of my life, I have been blessed by Almighty with some extraordinary and incredible people who give me a support and have spun a web of support around me which made this thesis possible. I would like an attempt to thank them for making my time during my research in the Institute a period I will treasure.

I am deeply grateful and indebted to my research supervisor, Professor B.C Sharma for presenting me such an interesting research topic. He has guided me with his invaluable suggestions, lightened up the way and encouraged me a lot in the academic life. From him I have learned to think critically, to select problems, to solve them and to present their solutions. I would like to thank him for furthering my education in many subjects like marketing, supply chain management, statistics, small and medium enterprises learning. He has given me the opportunity to get best training within the country for getting the knowledge of statistical package of social science (SPSS) and AMOS. It was more than I had ever hoped for in my research life. It was a great pleasure for me to a chance of working with him. He was the best choice I could make for an advisor. I consider it a great honor to have been part of The Business School of the University of Jammu and I salute the efforts of my Professor for his support to the nation in many ways. I would also like to mention my deep gratitude towards Dr. Rachna Gupta, Assistant Professor, The Business School, University of Jammu for all the support provided to me while I joined in the department. I would like also thank to all the faculty of The Business School, University for supporting me all the time and encouraged for fulfill this work. I will be failing in my duty if I don’t acknowledge some of my friends in the campus with whom I have shared my research experiences since it were a joy and enlightenment to me. I am fortunate to have a friend like Ms. Archana Chalotra, Ms. Sanjeevani Sehgal, and Ms. Bhupinder Kaur who have motivating me many a times with their extraordinary brilliance and analytical perceptions.

I would like to address special thanks to the unknown reviewers of my thesis, for accepting to read and review this thesis. I wish to thank the authors, developers and maintainers of the open source used in this work. I would like to appreciate all the researchers whose works I have used, initially in my understanding my field of research and later for updates.

It is with sincere gratitude that I wish to thank Prof. Hardeep Chahal (H.O.D, Department of Commerce, University of Jammu) for giving me the right direction in research path and always open door for helping me in the research.
