ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

“Words of thanks and gratefulness are not just spoken, but are felt the very depths of the heart.”

- Leo Tolstoy

This long cherished dream of mine is in its present form with the colossal support of so many persons whom I will remain forever indebted.

At this ecstatic time of presenting my thesis, I find myself unable to elucidate in words my genial feelings of indebtedness and unfeigned gratefulness to my supervisor, Hon’ble Prof. (Mrs.) Indira Dhull, Head and Dean, Faculty of Education, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak for her constructive and ever available guidance, incessant inspiration and valuable suggestions at all the stages of this mammoth project.

I find myself highly fortunate and gratefully privileged to have worked under her supervision on such an innovative and highly relevant topic concerning the relationship of emotional maturity among senior secondary school students with self esteem, home environment and mental health. Her enlightening storehouse of vast knowledge, farsightedness, eloquence and above all mastery over the subject inspired me throughout my way to complete this challenging task.

Thanks giving is a pleasant job, but none the less difficult too when one sincerely tries to put it in words. I thank from the core of my heart to Prof. (Mrs) Hemant Lata Sharma, Prof. A.K. Kalia, Prof. (Mrs) Madhu Gupta and the whole teaching faculty of Deptt. Of Education, M.D University Rohtak for their concrete suggestions, cooperation and necessary assistance from time to time.

It is an accepted fact that a researcher has to strive hard for the attainment of the goals of the studying any worthwhile line of endeavor. Besides, being an individual’s efforts, it always turns into a joint venture. Right from the selection of the problem to the selection of the problem to the conduct of the study and its reporting, a researcher always remains in search of the timely guidance, assistance and help from a number of familiar and unfamiliar sources which require a deep sense of gratitude and appreciation on the part of the researcher.
I am also indebted to my parents Dr. Dharam Singh Dhankhar and Mrs. Bina Dhankar for their inordinate inspiration and moral support at every step and my cousin Dr. Sunita Siwach who devoted long hours in helping me with the results and discussions, despite her busy schedule and always took initiative to improve and give shape to this work.

I am immensely grateful to the members of the staff of Central Library of University and the library staff of Dev Samaj College of Education, Chandigarh for providing me access to necessary reading and reference materials. I am extremely thankful to Dr. Radhey Shyam, Department of Psychology, M.D. University, Rohtak, Dr. Vijay Phogat, Government College of Education, Chandigarh and Dr. Shweta Solanki for their cooperation and help.

No words can adequately express my gratitude to my family, my in-laws Mrs. Nirmala Gahlaut and Mr. J.S. Gahlaut who were always by my side with all their support and encouragement, especially my husband Mr. Prateek Gahlaut who enabled to complete my work. His steadfast support and endurance have helped me immensely. I would also take this opportunity to thank and convey my affection to my son Aryan who has suffered the most but inspite of his small age completely understood.

I also acknowledge with pleasure for the unconditional support and cooperation extended to me by my sister Ms. Divyanka Singh and her husband Mr. Gautam Chawla. I would also like to thank the School Principals who helped me in the process of data collection and administration of tools. I am also extremely thankful to my Principal, Dr. Anamika Sharma for her cooperation and valuable suggestions during my work.

Words would fall short while expressing my gratefulness to almighty God with whose blessings, I was able to complete my work without much difficulty.
