

Acknowledgements

I bow my head in reverence and express my utmost gratitude to God almighty who created world so beautiful and blessed with the capacity and capability to learn and explore.

Completing a PhD is truly a marathon event, and I would not have been able to complete this journey without the help and support of many people over the past four years. Firstly, I am grateful to the eternal blessings and moral support of my parents and my brother who have always stood by my side in the time of need and have suffered the ups and downs for me over the last four years of my life......Thanks Ma, Pa, and Max!!

The research work embodied in this thesis has been carried out under the expert guidance and supervision of Dr. R.K.Pathak, Professor and Coordinator, UGC-SAP, Department of Anthropology, Panjab University, Chandigarh. My profound gratitude and most sincere acknowledgment are extended to him for his constant encouragement and intellectual insights which I received from him at all stages of this work. His help was always forthcoming whenever I needed, despite his multifarious engagements and intellectual pre-occupations. He has carefully gone through the entire script and improved it tremendously with his pragmatic approach and helpful suggestions. It gave me an opportunity to learn from him a great deal about research from his constructive suggestions and approach. He has been a constant source of inspiration to me. Working under his supervision was an experience which I shall cherish lifelong.

I take this opportunity to thank Dr. Krishan Sharma, Professor and Chairman, Department of Anthropology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for extending all infrastructural facilities for carrying out my present research work. I am thankful to Prof. B.G.Banerjee, Mr. C.J.Edwin, Reader and Dr. Abhik Ghosh, Reader, Department of Anthropology, Panjab University Chandigarh, for their valuable suggestions and encouragement at various stages of my research work.
I extend my thanks to my friend Taranpreet Kaur Oberoi, Research Scholar, Department of Anthropology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for her consistent help, valuable suggestions and motivation during the entire period of my research work.

I am thankful to Mrs. Kusum Chopra, Statistician, for her valuable assistance in data analyses. The whole-hearted cooperation and participation by all my subjects in data collection for the present research is deeply acknowledged. I also owe a sense of gratitude to all the authors and researchers whose work have been consulted and quoted to support the study.

Lastly, I thank my very dear friends, Geeta Garg, Nitika Sood and Rupinder Singh, who gave me moral support during the most difficult of times. Whenever I needed you, you were there to help me out...... Thank you guys!!!

In the end, I ought to be immensely grateful to all those individuals who have helped me directly or indirectly in this exciting venture.

Date: 26-03-2009
Place: Chandigarh

Purnima Parashar