Acknowledgment

I am deeply grateful to my supervisor Professor Sherry Sabharwal without whose guidance and help I could not have completed this thesis.

My family’s role was invaluable during the course of my Ph. D. research work as they provided all types of support to me – financial as well as emotional.

And my deepest appreciation goes to the Sikh families in Pratappur, Simbal Camp, Kobe and Tokyo whom I met through my research work. Not only did they open their hearts and homes to me but provided me with all the information that was so necessary for the writing of this thesis. I thank them for their hospitality and their generosity.

Finally, I would like to express my gratitude to the professors, colleagues, friends and all who cared and cheered for me. Thanks to their support and encouragement, I could finish writing this thesis as an achievement of my Ph. D. research work in Japan and India.

Masako Asuma

27 JAN 2012