ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am greatly indebted to Dr Emanuel Nahar, Reader/Associate Professor, in University School of Open Learning, Department of Political Science, Panjab University, Chandigarh. Without whose guidance and constant encouragement this study could not have been completed. I feel immense pleasure in offering my heartfelt thanks to him for allowing me to carry out this research work under his able supervision and for being so patient and understanding throughout the course of the study.

I am highly obliged to Professor (Mrs) Surinder Kler Shukla, University School of Open Learning, Department of Political Science, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for her help and valuable suggestions for the completion of this study.

I am also grateful to Dr Ronki Ram, Chairman, Department of Political Science, Panjab University Chandigarh, for his generous help at all stages of this work. My thanks are due to Professor B. S. Brar, Professor Sanjay Chatuervedi, and other faculty members for various supportive acts connected with this work.

I am also highly obliged to P. Sahadevan, Associate Professor and member of the Core Group for the Study of National Security at the School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi for his valuables suggestions from time to time.

I am extremely thankful to High Commissioner of Sri Lanka in New Delhi, for his keen interest in my work and for supply of useful research material for this study.

I am thankful to Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), North-Western Regional Centre, Chandigarh for sanctioning study grant for visits to consult libraries/institutions/experts in New Delhi for a period of twenty days and for a period of ten days for Chandigarh.

I feel immense pleasure in offering my thanks to Principal Kulbir Singh, M. R. Government College, Fazilka, who extended all help personally and officially from enrollment to completion of this study.
The help and cooperation extended by the research and administrative staff of Institute of Defence Study and Analysis (IDSA) New Delhi was very valuable in the progress and completion of this study. The library personnel of Jawahar Lal Nehru University, Institute for Defence Study and Analysis, Hi Commission of Sri Lanka in New Delhi, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, The Indian Council of World Affairs, Main Library of Panjab University Chandigarh and Mr Paramjit Singh, from Department of Political Science, Panjab University, were of great assistance and helpful from time to time.

Mr Manish Thakur, Mr Rajiv Kumar and Mr Surinder Singh, Research Scholars, Department of Political Science, Panjab University Chandigarh were extremely helpful in searching and sending research material for this study.

Last but not the least; I owe a deep debt of gratitude to my wife, Ms Suman Lata for her sustained encouragement throughout the period I was engaged in my present mission. She alone made it possible for me, to devote all my time to the completion of this work. My sons Sameen and Sahar were of great assistance in my study.

Finally, I would like to thank Mr Tarsem Lal, SLA Computer Department M.R. Government College Fazilka, who typed the thesis with remarkable patience.
