ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

As I submit my thesis, I sincerely feel overwhelmed out of a deep sense of gratitude to my worthy teacher and committed supervisor, Prof. Sanjay Chaturvedi. It is he, who not only inspired me to work on such an interesting as well as challenging theme but also provided me with his competent and able guidance throughout the course of work. Working under his supervision has been a stimulating experience and a highly enriching academic and intellectual exercise. Words would fail to express the personal as well as intellectual debt that I owe to him.

Needless to say, my deep beholdenness is due to my family who furnished me with the basic incentive, zeal and constant encouragement to take up this extensive research work. I also take pride in saying that my friends have always been great pillars of support and strength, hence plethora of gratitude is due to them.

I am especially indebted to the Chairman, Department of Political Science, Dr. Ashutosh Kumar, for being supportive in all respects.

My thanks are due to the office as well as library staff of the Department of Political Science.

I must also gratefully acknowledge the diligent work done by Nain Graphics Shop.

March 7, 2008
CHANDIGARH

MONICA THAKUR