Having had an inadequate knowledge of the German language one had to rely on translations of Nietzsche's works. Though the collected works were readily available in the 18-volume edition brought out under the general editorship of Dr Oscar Levy, the translations as a whole are considered to be not very reliable. Therefore, one used both the Oscar Levy edition as well as other available translations of individual works. Even when only the Oscar Levy edition of a work was available quotations were sometimes taken from selections compiled by R.J. Hollingdale and W. Kaufmann, respectively, because they offered translation advantages over the Oscar Levy edition. In a few, rare instances Nietzsche's words were lifted from books by writers quoting Nietzsche because the words are to be found in notes and fragments not readily available in the English language. One acknowledged such debts in the references.

The following bibliography is not an exhaustive one. We have listed only those authors and books which we have had a chance to cite in this work. In Nietzsche's context specifically, we have left out from the legend and the bibliography a few essays and fragments which we did not feel the need to refer to in the course of putting this work together.

Works by Friedrich Nietzsche

* The editions of Twilight of the Idols and The Anti-Christ referred to are contained in the same volume.

Other authors and works cited:

* A compilation of Nietzsche's notes.

Donway, Roger, 'Can 'egoists be Consistent', Ethics, Volume 80, 1969-70.

Kaufmann, Walter, Nietzsche: Philosophy, Psychologist
From Shakespeare to Existentialism,
Beacon, Boston, 1967.
The Portable Nietzsche, Viking Press, New

Koestler, Arthur, 'The Limits of Man and his Predicament'
The Limits of Human Nature, ed. J. Bentzel,

Kneale, W.O., 'Eternity', Encyclopedia of Philosophy,

Kraeger, A.F., and Manicas, P.T., Logic: The Essentials,

Logan, Thomas, The Meaning of Heidegger, Routledge and

The Mivate Meaning of Ethical Terms',
Mind, Volume XLVI, 1937.

'Ethical Judgments and Avoidability', Mind,
Volume XLVI, 1938.

Strawson, P.P., 'Social Morality and Individual Ideal',

Taylor, Richard, 'Determinism', Encyclopedia of Philosophy, ed. Paul Edwards, Macmillan,

Vergenti, L., 'Is Ethical Egoism Really Inconsistent?',
Ethics, Volume 80, 1969-70.

Warnock, G.J., Contemporary Moral Philosophy, Macmillan,

Warnock, Mary, Ethics since 1200, Oxford University

'Nietzsche's Conception of Truth',
Nietzsche: Legacy and Thought, ed.